

MODERN inventions have not destroyed adventure. They have made it. Who since Marco Polo has had such a record as Roald Amundsen?—the South Pole on foot; the North Pole, or practically to it, by air; the North Magnetic Pole, and, after four hundred years of search, the first navigation of the Northwest Passage! And after him goes MacMillan, better equipped mechanically, as is the American way, incidentally for the Pole, but primarily to explore the unknown lands of the Far North. If getting to places, taking risks and conquering difficulties is adventure, this is the very age of adventure.

After all, the earth is small, and the exploration even of its frozen tips and hidden wilds is finally exhausted. Modern life offers a greater adventure. Would you go far afield? Astronomers, within the common place, have expanded the horizon of thought a thousand-fold. Would you delve in mysteries? Physicists have penetrated as far within the atom as astronomers have gone into the outer universe. Would you repeat the wonders of Aladdin? Science has made them common-place. And even the vain struggle of Faust, to touch the core of knowledge, is no longer hopeless. Man can hurl his body through the air and send his mind through the outer spaces. That is a greater adventure than any that Polo, Columbus, Magellan or Amundsen knew.

IT is a good thing for the Association of Credit men to consider means of stopping crimes against business costing a quarter of a billion a year. But there are also crimes by business, costing many billions. Business has its quacks, as well as the professions. Fraudulent stock salesmen, high-pressure promoters of wildcat speculation, sellers of quack medicine and quack psychology, boosters of bogus goods—these, by their crimes in the name of "business," are as much enemies of legitimate business as any of the criminals "against" business. Real business does not harvest the "sucker" crop. It should join with the rest of us in hounding down the pretended business which does.

THEY know how to do it in Cuba. Two editors call each other pigs, dogs, thieves, liars and other journalistic epithets, and "differences" have been settled. It is added that one or both have been injured "examining" sabers. The law forbids duelling, so the wounds are always accidental. Incident to inspecting the weapons. America is not the only place where the delusion prevails that a crime is not a crime if you call it by some other name.

MODERN improvements have almost doubled the "average" length of life. And yet they have scarcely increased its individual span. The chance of surviving infancy and growing up is greater, but not the chance of reaching old age if you do grow up. "Average" is deceptive. The average age of a family of whom two are twenty-three and twenty-five years old, and two died in infancy, is twelve years, though the only actual members are twice that age. The earlier generations showed a much larger number of little graves, but nearly as large a proportion of gray heads. The chances of living are better, but not the chances of living long.

JAPANESE divorce is to be made easier, by giving the man as well as the woman the right to sue for infidelity, and harder, by requiring the permission of parents, if living, to a divorce "by consent." Both are in the direction of the stability and equality of the marriage relation, while still leaving the marriage dissoluble in law when it has ceased to be a marriage in fact.

In the first rule, Japan is just catching up with the Occident. In the second, now modified, it was already ahead of it. "Divorce by consent" is an established institution in many American states. But our laws compel the courts and the parties to pretend it is something else.

Veteran, 81, Is Now Father for Twentieth Time

RIVERSIDE, Cal., June 25.—L. W. Dunham, 81, Civil war veteran, became a father the twentieth time today with the birth of a baby girl to his second wife. It is Dunham's 15th daughter.

The active and aged father has 15 living progeny, including a 49-year old son in Cleveland, a lawyer. The latter weighs 200 pounds, according to Dunham, who tips the beam at a mere 120.

"I must have at least a trainload of grand-children," the aged veteran chuckled.

Divorces Wife For Naming Boy After Old Beau

LOS ANGELES, June 25.—Mrs. Lillian E. Hand was divorced by her husband, Charles, today, because she "named her boy Robert, after a former sweetheart." She also flirted with policemen, railroad men and real estate agents," Hand testified in Judge S. W. Summerfield's divorce court.

ARMS REPORT CAUSES STIR IN SHANGHAI

Guards Search Vehicles Entering City in Effort to Curb Threatened Clash

REPORT MANY KILLED

Chinese Government May Sever Economic Relations with Great Britain

SHANGHAI, June 25.—Information that a plot was on foot to smuggle thousands of pistols into Shanghai caused guards today to search vehicles and persons entering the city.

The crippled city of Shanghai is struggling in the fourth week of the general strike, with business practically paralyzed.

The majority of able bodied men in the foreign settlement are members of the volunteer police reserves and are patrolling the city every night.

The center of violence, however, seems to have shifted to Hong Kong.

TENSE SITUATION IS REPORTED IN DISPATCH

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Only one French civilian and no Americans were hurt in the battle of Shamen, a suburb of Canton, China, Tuesday afternoon, between Chinese soldiers and French and British sailors.

A dispatch to the state department today from Consul General Jenkins, Canton, reported this fact and added that the situation "was exceedingly tense and fighting may be resumed at any moment."

SAYS CHINESE MAY SEVER RELATIONS

LONDON, June 25.—The Chinese government cannot declare war on Great Britain but it might sever economic relations. Liang Sung Chi, secretary to Tuan Chihui, central executive, told students at Tien Tsin, according to a Central News dispatch from that city today.

FOREIGN CASUALTIES SMALL IN CLASH

HONG KONG, June 25.—The only foreign casualties in the clash at Shamen, involving Chinese students and British, were one Frenchman killed and one Britisher. Two Japanese and two Frenchmen were wounded by shots from the Chinese demonstrators.

The majority of Americans from Canton are safe here.

An American woman refugee who did not wish disclosure of her name reported that there had been heavy slaughter among the Chinese demonstrators, when British and French marines responded to the fusillade of the Chinese against Shamen.

Led By Russians

The American woman said that the last part of the procession of Chinese, which comprised 3000 military cadets equipped with rifles and bayonets, deliberately fired on Shamen. She described the attackers as headed by mounted Russian officers, who gave the signal to fire. Thereupon, according to her story, the cadets fanned out and fired their fusillade.

According to her, English and also French marines replied, taking heavy toll among the Chinese.

Another American said that prior to the firing there was the procession leaped like derisives, making threatening gestures and shouting:

"Kill the foreigners!"

CHINESE SOLDIERS GUARD LEGATIONS

PEKIN, June 25.—With barred wire, Chinese soldiers and gendarmes guarding entrances to the foreign legation quarter, Pekin, today held parades and demonstrations, but on a smaller scale than had been anticipated.

They were intended as protest demonstrations and as celebration of the dragon boat festival.

Foreigners were not permitted to witness memorial services for the Chinese who died in recent outbreaks held at Tienanmen plaza.

MAC SMITH LEADING BIG GOLF TOURNEY

PRESTWICK, England, June 25.—MacDonald Smith, star American pro, turned in a startling 69 for a new course record on his second round today and took the lead in the field that is playing for the British open golf championship.

With a fair 76 for the first round, Smith found himself with a total of 145, which put him two strokes ahead of Jim Barnes, his fellow American, who was leading with a 147.

Among the other leading scores were: Archie Compston, 151; Sid Wingate, 152; Tom Fernie, 152; W. H. Davies, 152; J. J. Taylor, who made a hole in one, 153; A. B. Mitchell, 153; Ted Ray, 153; Alex Herd, 153; Jim Duncan, 156; J. F. Cruickshank, 158.

Negro Woman Shoots and Kills Umpire

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 25.—"Kill the umpire!" some shout when Joe Warrier, arbitred in a negro baseball game in North Birmingham called out a runner on a close decision at first base. Lizzie Perkins, a negro spectator, was swayed by the idea. She drew a pistol and fired five shots into Warrier, killing him instantly.

TALKS 4 HOURS IN EFFORT TO FREE SHEPHERD

CHICAGO, June 25.—The charges that William D. Shepherd murdered his millionaire ward, Billy McClintock, are flimsy and ridiculous, William Scott Stewart, chief defense counsel, declared today in his argument for acquittal, which covered four hours.

Step by step, Stewart went over the state's testimony against Shepherd and laughed it off as insufficient to find his client guilty.

"Would you gentlemen hang a man because he drew up his foster son's will?" Stewart asked.

"Would you hang a man because he studied chemistry and liked to visit around laboratories?"

Would you hang a man because his bank balance showed several thousands of dollars?

On and on Stewart went, taking the testimony of each of the state's 43 witnesses and belittling it as evidence of murder. Some of the witnesses he passed over with the remark:

"Well, that isn't worth talking about."

Shepherd, who is daily becoming more impatient to know his fate, listened attentively to Stewart's argument, smiling occasionally when the attorney struck a point he considered significant.

RADIO IS HURTING PHONOGRAPH TRADE

LOS ANGELES, June 25.—Radio is ruining the talking machine business according to delegates to the Western Music Trades convention here today.

However, "radio will never cause the phonograph to become extinct," declared Phillip T. Clay, music magnate.

"The public must be convinced that the two are complements of each other—each has its individual place in the scheme of modern necessities."

America is overcrowded with broadcasting stations, Ellery W. Stone, president of the Federal Telegraph company told the delegates.

"There are not enough wave lengths available to accommodate all the stations clamoring for licenses," Stone said. "The public doesn't need but one-fifth of the present broadcasting stations."

"In the future there will be fewer stations and better programs."

LaFollette's Will Leaves Widow All

MADISON, Wis., June 25.—Former Senator Robert M. LaFollette left an estate valued at $68,800 according to his will, which was filed in county court here.

Indebtedness of $29,000, including a mortgage of $20,000 on the Maple Bluff farm house, will reduce the value to $39,800.

Mrs. LaFollette is named as sole beneficiary and also becomes executrix of the estate.

MAY ACCUSE S. A. MAN IN MURDER CASE

Leo Grigsby to Be Charged Jointly With 2 Women, Says Dispatch From S.F.

INQUEST IS TOMORROW

Floyd Grigsby Tells What Brother Said on Return To His Home After Row

JOINT CHARGES OF MURDER

San Ana, and two women, alleged to have participated in the fight which cost the life of Albert Anderson, customs guard, in the women's fashionable San Francisco apartment last Sunday night probably will be filed following the inquest tomorrow, according to dispatches received here today.

Grigsby, who is understood to be a brother of Floyd Edwin Grigsby, conductor of a popular San Francisco cafe orchestra and until recently manager of the musicians who played under his name for dances here and at Balboa, is in jail in San Francisco.

Grigsby's story, San Francisco police declared, checked with "confessions," since repudiated, of Mrs. Dora Howard that she struck Anderson over the head with a glass punch bowl and stabbed him with a pen knife in self defense.

The highest temperature recorded in the state yesterday was 120 degrees, at Needles. Other reports were:

Paso Robles, 113; Yuma, Ariz., 112; Red Bluff, Sacramento, Fresno, Merced and Calexico, 110; Santa Rosa, 105; Stockton, San Jose, 104; San Bernardino, 98; Eureka, Los Angeles, 90; Santa Barbara, 76; San Diego, 72.

Gives Brother's Story

In an interview published in a San Francisco newspaper, F. Edwin Grigsby, the accused man's brother, signed the following account of what he knew about the case:

"I have been in a fight with a man; I don't know whether or not he is dead."

"These were the words my brother spoke as he came to my home Sunday night shortly after my wife and I had gone to bed."

"At first he was so distraught he could hardly speak coherently. He was atremble and excited, and it was some time before he calmed sufficiently to tell us what had happened. Finally he gave the following version of the affair."

"He had been visiting Mrs. Howard and Mrs. Lotte at their apartment. Early in the evening Mrs. Howard departed. She was alone when she went out, and returned unaccompanied."

"Anderson Comes In"

"But she had only been in the apartment a short time when a man rang the bell and was admitted. Mrs. Howard and the man went into a dressing room, and my brother, lying on a chest, paid little attention to them."

"There seemed to be some argument, and Leo overheard Mrs. Howard say:

"Good night. It's all right. If you feel that way about it. No harm done, and you can go."

"She did not seem angered as she spoke, but her words were followed by a torrent of abuse and shouts from the stranger."

"Then came the crash of dishes and the woman's scream for help. A scuffle was going on in the kitchen. Jumping from the couch, Leo rushed into the darkened kitchen. He observed the form of the man with his arm upraised as if to strike Mrs. Howard. As my brother described it the man was going to hit the woman with either a black-jack or the butt end of a revolver."

Defends the Woman

"Leo grabbed at his arm and grappled with him. While they were struggling the woman plunged the knife into her assailant's body. He sank into my brother's arms."

"Quick! Get him out of here," the women shouted.

"No, no," get him out of here," they insisted.

"Leo thereupon helped them carry the body into the elevator. He again suggested that an ambulance and the police be called but they would not listen to it. They then sent my brother away, and he came directly to our house."

"I am sure Leo would not have conducted himself in this manner if it had not been for his weakened condition of mind and body brought on by a recent operation."

"Even after he told us his story, we urged him to tell the authorities. But the thought made him panic stricken."

"His flight to Los Angeles was against my advice and his judgment. I feel that he conducted himself honorably in defending the endangered woman."

SALAD POISONS SEVEN

EL DORADO, Kas., June 25.—Seven persons were recovering here today from a severe attack of ptomaine poisoning after eating chicken salad at a local restaurant. Her condition is critical.

Revolt Makes Grecian Cabinet Quit

ATHENS, June 25.—Revolution has broken out in Greece and the Michalakopoulou cabinet has resigned. The president has asked M. Papanastasiou to form a new government.

Papanastasiou undertook to form a cabinet in collaboration with General Panagiotis, as war minister and Adjikriacos as navy minister.

OLD SOL KIND TO SANTA ANA: STATE SUFFERS

While residents of many of the interior cities of the state were today sweltering in the heat, residents of this city were enjoying a temperature of 72 degrees, the registration of the thermometer at the Hill and Son store at 11:35 a. m.

According to weather reports from San Francisco, interior valleys reported a uniform of temperature yesterday of 110 degrees, with the same condition existing today. Lower temperatures prevailed in the coast sections. Cooler weather was predicted for tomorrow.

San Francisco started the day at 63 degrees, 7 degrees cooler than yesterday, when a high mark of 95 was reached. At 9:30 a. m. today the thermometer there registered 75, telegraphic reports declared.

The Italian debt to the United States aggregates $2,135,543,852, of which $1,647,869,197 is principal and $487,674,654 is accrued interest.

FREAK WIND STORM FOLLOWS HOT WAVE

HANFORD, Cal., June 25.—A freak wind storm that did some damage to valley orchards and to farm houses swept through this section at 2 o'clock today after one of the hottest June days of record in Kings county. The thermometer reached 110 in the shade. The storm extended from north of Fresno as far south as Bakersfield, and on the west side of the valley blew with the force of a small sized tornado.

WHITSELL IN LINE FOR RAILROAD JOB

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Governor Friend W. Richardson was besieged by office seekers in his executive offices here today. The governor is to name one railroad commissioner, at $8,000 a year, succeeding Egerton D. Shore, and 11 Long Beach and Los Angeles municipal court judges, at $6,000 annually.

These reports d "in the running" for the governor's job are Supervisor Leon Whitsell, Orange; Judge W. A. Sloane, San Diego; Judge Guy Clump and Ralph Clock, former judge, Los Angeles, and Dallas Gray, Fresno rancher.

Guard Men Held In Murder Plot

CONCORDIA, Kas., June 25.—Extra guards were stationed around the county jail here today, where five Kansas City gun men and Charles B. Davies are held following their arrest on a charge of assault with intent to kill in connection with an alleged plot to slay Mrs. Davies. Davies, retired merchant and prominent clubman, confessed he hired the gangsters to kill his wife. Davies is held under $10,000 bonds. None of his old friends here would sign the bond and he was lodged in jail.

3 Convicted for Miner's Murder

AUBURN, Calif., June 25.—Miles H. Andrews, David S. Wills and Henry Worth today stood convicted for the murder of Thomas Carl, miner of Spring Garden.

The verdict was returned last night.

Sentence will be pronounced Monday by Judge J. B. Landis.

In bringing in the verdict, Wills and Worth were found guilty of murder in the first degree while Andrews was convicted of manslaughter with recommendation for leniency.

Carl was killed last January in a mine near Spring Garden.

RANCHER'S WIFE SHOTS SELF

MODESTO, June 25.—Believed despondent over reverses, Mrs. F. M. Metzgar, wife of E. M. Metzgar, Eschen rancher, shot herself below the heart with a .32 calibre revolver at her home yesterday. Her condition is critical.

ITALY WILL ASK BETTER DEBT TERMS

American Debt Commission Accords Recognition on Basic Capacity to Pay

WILL SEEK REDUCTION

Lower Interest Rate Is to Be Requested Than That Paid by Britain, Report

WASHINGTON, D.C., June 25.—Italy today asked and received from the American debt funding commission recognition of the "basic principle of capacity to pay" as the starting point in Italy-American debt funding negotiations.

Parleys Are Opened

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Italy will seek better debt settlement terms with the United States than were granted Great Britain, it was indicated today as Ambassador Martono opened parleys with members of the American Debt Funding commission.

Where the British obtained interest rates of three per cent for the first ten years and 3½ per cent for the succeeding 52 years of deferred payments, Italy believes her financial condition warrants something easier. A ten-year moratorium before she would be required to pay anything is also understood to be among her desires.

The Italian debt to the United States aggregates $2,135,543,852, of which $1,647,869,197 is principal and $487,674,654 is accrued interest.

ITALY WILL SEEK REDUCTION IN TOTAL

ROME, June 25.—Italy's debt funding commission will ask the United States to reduce the total of her debt by subtracting "super profits" made by America in war time dealings with Italy, the United Press was reliably informed today.

The debt funding plan contemplates such a proposal, together with the flotation of long term state obligations at low interest. These would be negotiated in New York.

Further Italy proposes a reduction in the rate of exchange to the average pre-war level.

EX KLAN LEADER IS REFUSED BAIL

NOBLESVILLE, Ind., June 25.—D. B. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan, today lost his fight for freedom on bond while awaiting trial on charges of murdering Miss Madrie Oberholzer of Indianapolis.

Judge Hines, in Hamilton county court ruled that Stephenson was not entitled to bail after weighing evidence presented at a four-day hearing last week on the bail plea.

Judge Hines also denied the bail petition of Earl Klenck and Earl Gentry, jointly indicted with Stephenson.

Two Get 500 Days On Liquor Counts

Charged with manufacturing intoxicating liquor E. Hinojos, 45, and Pedro Morano, 35, Garden Grove inhabitants, were arrested last yesterday afternoon, when Chief Criminal Deputy Ed McClellan, with several deputies raided the Hinojos home, where 10 gallons of alleged whiskey was found, according to the officers.

In justice court early today, both were found guilty of the charges and sentenced to serve 500 days in the Orange county jail, or pay $500 fine. Both were taken to jail.

Author Dies Ten Days After Pardon

PHOENIX, Ariz., June 25.—Donald Lowry, noted convict-author of San Francisco, died at a private home here last night, 10 days after his release from the state penitentiary at Florence.

Lowry was convicted of burglary in Maricopa county and started a term of three to five years in the Florence prison last fall.

Suffering from tuberculosis he was confined in the hospital ward of the penitentiary until 10 days ago, when the state parole board, on recommendation of Governor Hunt, granted him a pardon.

Train Kills Cow Chaser

TACOMA, Wash., June 25.—While chasing his runaway cow along the railroad tracks M. E. Dutcher, 54, a rancher, was struck and killed by a train.

Wins Cut-Rate Fine With Smooth Story

LOS ANGELES, June 25.—E. E. Scott paid only $10 instead of the customary $20 fine for speeding because Justice, Samuel R. Blake, appreciated a good story.

Scott was accused of driving 20 miles per hour at a 15-mile intersection.

"I had to go more than 15 miles, judge," Scott said. "because my tail-light wouldn't burn at slow speed. I had to get her up to 20 to keep the tail-light burning."

"That story's worth $10," declared the judge. "I'll split the $20 fine and charge you just $10."

2 TAKE LIVES. CHILD DIES AS GUN EXPLODES

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Three persons were dead here today, tragedy victims. Two were suicides and the third, a girl of 7, was accidentally shot by her brother, aged 11.

Fearing insanity after illness, Arthur J. Burton, assistant purchasing agent of the Navy San Francisco Harbor commission, took his own life with a revolver bullet.

George Edwards, musician and clubman, spent the day with his five-year-old son, whom he was permitted to see once a week under his wife's divorce decree, and then slashed his throat with a razor.

Samuel McBride, 11, was in the custody of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George F. McBride, Colma, following confession that an automatic pistol exploded while he was cracking nuts, the bullet killing his sister, Hamby.

PROBE SATED IN SLAYING OF BOXER

BOSTON, June 25.—Investigation into the death of "Johnny" Vito, Boston boxer, found slain in Baintree last night, shifted to Boston today with detention of William Marotta, a friend of the slain man, and two women, said to be sweethearts of Vito and Marotta.

No charges were prepared against Marotta and the two women and it was said they were merely being held for questioning by Baintree police in an effort to account for Vito's movements last night.

Vito's bullet ridden body was found in a lonely section of Baintree. The police believe he was slain down in a hijacker's feud, although he was unarmed. His own revolver was found at the home of his father, Anthony Vito, here. He was well known on the Pacific coast.

L. A. DRIVER GETS 250-DAY SENTENCE

Charles E. Tignor, 38, Los Angeles salesman, occupied a cell in the Orange county jail, following his conviction in Justice K. E. Morrison's court early today, on a charge of reckless driving. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $250, or spend the next 250 days in jail. Unable to pay, he was committed to jail.

Tignor, who with his wife, was on his way to Los Angeles from San Diego, drove his car into a machine driven by Mrs. Stella Franzen, Santa Ana Route 4, on the Irvine boulevard late yesterday. His arrest followed, when Mrs. Franzen, who escaped unharmed, filed a complaint against him.

Chinese Killed By Bandits When Town Is Raided

NOGALES, Ariz., June 25.—Several Chinese were killed and considerable loot carried away by a band of bandits that rode into Magdalena, Sonora, Mexico, and "shot up" the town, according to advices here today.

A special train carrying 50 Mexican soldiers was rushed from Nogales to Magdalena to chase the bandits and restore order in the province.

Magdalena is 50 miles south of here.

Commander Byrd Says Failure to Load Sets Aboard Due to Misunderstanding

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, June 25.—Commander Donald MacMillan today wired the National Geographic society, backers of his expedition, that he was entirely in accord with Secretary of the Navy Wilbur's desire to assure the safety of the accompanying naval flyers and would load the standard navy radio equipment at Sydney, N. S., as requested.

EXPLAIN RADIO SET LEFT THROUGH ERROR

CHICAGO, June 25.—Failure of the MacMillan Arctic expedition to take along the naval radio apparatus was due to a misunderstanding, Commander Byrd, in charge of the naval planes attached to the two ships of the expedition, has messaged Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, the Zenith Radio corporation offices here announced today.

The navy apparatus will be placed on board the Bowdoin today at North Sydney, N. S. Byrd said, the Zenith office declared.

Threatened to Withdraw

Wilbur threatened to withdraw the planes unless Donald MacMillan, leader of the expedition, replaced the short wave Zenith apparatus with the long wave navy equipment.

HOOVER JUNIOR IS TO BE WED TODAY

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, June 25.—Herbert Hoover Jr., son of Secretary of Commerce and Mrs. Hoover, and Miss Margaret Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Watson, of San Francisco, were to be married here at 4 o'clock today.

The ceremony was planned to take place in Stanford Memorial church, with only immediate families present, and no wedding attendants.

The couple will take a motor honeymoon, driving east to Harvard university, where young Hoover will enroll as a post-graduate student in mining engineering, following the profession of his father.

Both have been prominent in university life and were graduated from the university Monday.

U. S. Ambassador Is Under Knife

NEW YORK, June 25.—James R. Sheffield, American ambassador to Mexico, was operated upon at St. Luk's hospital here today. The operation was pronounced successful. An announcement by physicians did not disclose the nature of the operation, but added it was hoped Sheffield's condition would be satisfactory.

Envoy Will Take Note

WASHINGTON, June 25.—American Ambassador Sheffield will soon depart for Mexico city with a note to President Calles that is expected to close the "Mexican incident" which created such a furore in diplomatic circles last week, it was learned today.

Order Inspector To Submit Books

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—John Franklin Johnson, state banking superintendent, was under court orders here today to bring books and records of his department into court Tuesday as evidence in the case against Sigmond J. Janas and Joseph Goldman. The records refer to transactions of more than a year ago, under which Johnson accused Janas and Goldman, employees of his department, of embezzling and receiving state funds.

American Women Will Meet King

LONDON, June 25.—The American embassy announced today that Mrs. A. B. Houghton, wife of the American ambassador, will present the following Americans at the final court of the season of Buckingham Palace Friday:

Miss Louise Boyd, San Francisco; Mrs. William W. Grant, and Miss Elaine Wilcox, Denver.

MORE MEN SOUTHPAWS.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., June 25.—More men than women are left-handed, says Prof. June Downey of the University of Wyoming, who recently completed examinations of 400 people. She says ambidextrous persons generally possess a superior intelligence.

DOUBLE CELEBRATION

MILLSBURY, Mass., June 25.—Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Rice and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin O. Paine were married at a double wedding ceremony 52 years ago. They recently had a "double celebration" of the anniversary.

EXPECT 1000 CITRUSMEN AT INSTITUTE

One thousand growers from every citrus section in the state are expected to attend the fourth annual citrus institute and the eighth annual pest control school, in the Anaheim high school, tomorrow and Saturday, respectively.

The institute sessions will open at 9:30 o'clock, with Dr. S. S. Twombly, Fullerton, as chairman. The afternoon meeting will begin at 1:30 o'clock, with C. J. Booth, Ontario, as chairman.

The pest control school will start at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning, with C. V. Newman, manager of the San Joaquin Fruit company, as chairman. The afternoon session will commence at 1:30 o'clock, with W. A. Johnston, San Dimas, as chairman.

The institute and the pest control school are being conducted under the auspices of the agricultural extension service and the farm bureaus of the seven southern counties.

Some of the best known citrus experts in the country will speak at the meetings. Following each of the talks, there will be questions and answers.

The sessions are entirely free and anyone interested in citrus growing is extended an invitation to attend.

You And Your Friends

Please Phone or Mail Items

Miss Clara Kellogg of 617 South Parton street left today for San Diego to attend the State C. E. convention. She has been county secretary for the past two years, now serving her third. Miss Kellogg expects to meet a host of friends from all over the state at the convention. On her return Monday, she expects to leave immediately for a month's vacation at Yosemite, accompanied by three friends.

E. L. Tennis of Chanute, Kansas, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. E. H. Prince, 702 West Eighth street. He is a former resident of Santa Ana but has not been here for a score or more years and says he sees a vast change and improvement in the city.

The Reverend and Mrs. Logan Harter and family motored to San Diego today to attend the State Endeavor convention session there. Mrs. Harter is one of the soloists for the United Brethren rally to be held at the First United Brethren church at San Diego, of which Rev. Harter was the pastor before coming to Santa Ana. Mr. and Mrs. Harter expect to return Saturday but Melvin and Elise, the young people of the family, intend remaining over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lieser, 1427 North Broadway street, have just returned from a two weeks' sojourn at the Elsinore Hot springs. They report a delightful outing which they enjoyed to the utmost.

E. L. Sherrill of 612 North Garnsey street and his brother, Ira Sherrill of Los Angeles have returned from a trip to Fort Worth and Hillsboro, Tex. They were accompanied by Mrs. E. L. Sherrill and their son, Lynn, who are now visiting in Ellsworth, Kans., where Mrs. Sherrill grew to womanhood. At Hillsboro the family visited Mrs. A. B. McPherson and D. C. McPherson, maternal uncles of the Sherrill brothers.

Miss Mildred Smith, kindergarten teacher at Jefferson school of 220 East Washington avenue, left Sunday over the Southern Pacific for San Francisco.

Miss Mary Swass, teacher of Spanish in the junior college high school, left last week for San Francisco, traveling Southern Pacific.

David Sherrill was a Saturday passenger over the Southern Pacific, taking a long trip east, via Jacksonville, Fla. and New Orleans, La.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Crookshank and their daughters, the Misses Josephine and Constance Crookshank, are enjoying a brief vacation in Berkeley and the Bay cities, following the closing of schools in the north. They will return the last of the week, accompanied by Miles Crookshank, who is now at Palo Alto.

Miss Mabel Cooke was an outgoing passenger over the Southern Pacific yesterday bound for Deming, N. M.

J. Ogden Markel of the firm of Markel and Son, contractors, 617 East Seventeenth street, has left for an extended trip east, going over the Southern Pacific to San Francisco and east by northern route to Chicago with a plan to visit various points before going south to New Orleans, his old home. He will be away all summer.

Mrs. Susanna Williams and her daughter Miss Marguerite Williams of the Franklin school faculty, 208 North Van Ness avenue, left yesterday via the Southern Pacific route for Denver, Pueblo and Greeley, Colo., at which latter place Miss Williams will attend summer school.

W. C. May of the May Motor company, Carl Hawthorne of the Hawthorne Oil company and B. H. Chapman, Long Beach business man left yesterday over the Southern Pacific for a brief business trip to Phoenix, Ariz.

Miss Justine Whitney, county recorder, is looking forward with keen anticipation to her vacation of two months in the east and Canada. She left yesterday over the Southern Pacific for Seattle, where she will meet her cousin, Miss Belle Whitney, who has been touring in both south and north, and has just returned to Seattle from Alaska. The travelers will go east via the Canadian Rockies, visiting Lake Louise and Banff. Miss Justine Whitney will accompany her cousin to her home in Clayton, N. Y., which will be her headquarters while she visits other relatives in that vicinity. New York is her home state.

Miss Hattie Powers, chief deputy in the recorder's office, took her to Los Angeles this morning to board her train.

Judge F. C. Drumm of Orange has gone on a business trip to El Centro, having left Sunday via the Southern Pacific.

The Rev. Father H. Eummelen is enjoying a few days' visit from his sister, Mrs. Catherine Wiedenhoff, her son Max and daughter, Gertrude, of San Diego.

F. E. Farnsworth, one of the vice presidents of the First National bank, Mrs. Farnsworth and their two children of 2219 North Broadway, have left over the Southern Pacific for a trip east and to various points in Canada.

H. B. Van Dien of Van Dien-Young company and his young son Benton Van Dien, left yesterday to board the Lions' special train in Los Angeles to go east over the Southern Pacific lines to Sandusky, O., where Mr. Van Dien will represent the local club at the convention there. After the convention the travelers will visit Mr. Van Dien's sister in Long Island, N. Y., returning home in about three weeks on the Sunset Limited.

Homer Beck, young business man of this city, left Sunday afternoon over the Union Pacific for his home in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, via Denver, Colorado, Omaha and Sioux City. He was manager of one of the Daley's Chain Grocery stores for a period of two years, resigning to go home on account of poor health, but expects to return to California within the year.

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers of them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

Editor Register:—Not being solicited to express an opinion as to "why the bonds did not carry," I shall volunteer one, but of course it's up to you, whether it is published or not.

First, I will quote from two opinions, as published on the subject, one of these from one in authority, which coincides with that of the opponents' convictions, the other does not.

The first one reads: "The city possibly could get along for two years without drilling more wells; the opposition has so contended, and believed."

The next one reads: "The bonds were lost because we have no city auditorium where the people can get together and discuss the affairs and problems of the city." True, we have no "boxed-in" auditorium, but we have a very good substitute in our beautiful park.

Dr. Ball issued a call for a "mass meeting"; this call reads: "We respectfully ask the voters of Santa Ana to be present at Birch park for a mass meeting to be held Saturday evening, June 20, 8 p. m., to discuss the water bond issue. Everyone invited, especially proponents."

Had the proponents accepted this invitation, results might have been different.

But when all is said and done, and said without regret, the real reason why the bonds did not carry, based on figures published in The Register, was and is, the proponents lacked just 2,831 votes of enough to carry them.

SECURE LARGE GERMAN RIFLE FOR SANTA ANA

Through the efforts of Santa Ana post, 131, American Legion, Santa Ana and Orange county is to receive one of the largest rifles, captured German field rifle, which will be erected in the county court house yard and dedicated to the men and women of Orange county who served their country during the war.

Announcement that Santa Ana post has secured the gun was made today by Herman Zabel, chairman of an American Legion committee, which has been working for several months to secure one of the trophies.

The rifle is a 150-millimeter field piece, weighs 35,000 pounds and has a 16 foot barrel. The gun is the same calibre as an American seven-inch gun, and one of the largest brought to this country at the close of the war.

The county supervisors, yesterday, voted to pay the freight from San Pedro to Santa Ana, where the rifle will be shipped from a government arsenal in New Jersey. Shipment will be made immediately, according to Zabel.

The local post of the Legion is planning to invite all posts in the county to a ceremonial to be held on the lawn of the court house, after the gun has been set up. At this a program, officially dedicating the rifle to Orange county citizens, will be made.

The gun will sit in the same position that the old Spanish American war gun now occupies, and the 1898 relic will be transferred to the Orange county park.

The Well-Dressed Man
By BEAUNASH
Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

TRUE STYLES AND FALSE
When excessively wide sailor-bottom trousers were introduced, they set the unimproved buzzing like an overturned beehive. Well-dressed men, here and abroad, have never gone in for this questionable style. They could not conceivably do so, because the trousers of a gentleman are neither very wide nor very narrow, but always proportioned to his height and figure. Sailor-bottom trousers have cruised up upon their brief wave of popularity, as distinguished from fashion, and they are now jolly well sunk. Correctly cut trousers, like a correctly cut coat or waistcoat, have no fixed length or width. Such details depend upon the wearer. The stream of nonsense that is poured out about styles makes the judicious grieve and the malicious gloat. Probably no fad of recent years has brought greater ridicule upon men's dress, and unjustly so, than "sailor bottoms" worn with belts and trailing over the shoe in a manner indescribably sloppy and ugly.

There are true styles and false styles. The true lasts, because it is founded upon sense, taste and appropriateness. The false style goes on its way and, then, is soon kicked out of the way, because it did not conform to reason and the fitness of things. Therefore, never be beguiled into adopting any style merely because it is touted and shouted as "the last word" in style. Always remember that no fashion is fashionable for the individual unless it is a fashion that is becoming to the wearer.

The suit, portrayed in the accompanying sketch, shows the 3-button coat with the high, wide, blunt-cornered lapels now favored by some men. You will observe that this coat is broad at the shoulders, tapering to decided snugness across the hips, an effect which is sometimes described as wedge-shaped. The lines of the garment are free and straight, as befits a confessedly hot-weather style. Both town and country clothes should be worn loose in summer. Preferably, wear your coat buttoned. This helps to "set" it to the figure and gives it a much smarter appearance.

The round out of the coat in front is a fashionable feature of most styles for young men during the current season. The back vent is usually omitted, although it is noteworthy that the former practice of placing two short side vents in the back is by way of being revived. Do not wear your trousers too broad. Do not allow them to wrinkle in an ungainly way over the instep. Be conservative in adopting every fashion. Avoid all extremes, except extremely good taste.

DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS ARE SEVERED BY ATTORNEYS IN EL CAPITAN DAM STRUGGLE

With diplomatic relations severed by counsel, the El Capitan condemnation case proceeded here today somewhat tamely in contrast to the more or less hectic session of yesterday, when Col. Ed Fletcher occupied the witness stand.

After yesterday's final flare-up, when Attorney T. B. Cosgrove, of counsel for San Diego city, requested the court to instruct Attorney Hugh Sanders, La Mesa irrigation district counsel, not to address him in court, an icy atmosphere reigned today. Frigid politeness and cold courtesy between rival camps caused Judge Marvin Conkling to congratulate himself that he wasn't back home at El Centro, where the weather man reported 114 in the so-called shade.

Favors Mission Gorge
Engineer Thomas King, of La Mesa irrigation district, resumed his testimony, started late yesterday, and placed himself on record as favoring a dam at Mission Gorge No. 3, in preference to the El Capitan site, which the city wants.

Mission Gorge No. 3, he said, would immediately increase the city's supply by 2,000,000 gallons daily, at a less cost than water from El Capitan. The Mission Gorge dam could be built in two years, where it will require four to build El Capitan, he claimed. If it was necessary to pump all the water from a reservoir at Mission Gorge, which it would not be, the witness said, such water would still cost not more than half of all gravity water from El Capitan, and if the Mission Gorge water was all gravity, it would cost but a third of the water at El Capitan.

Rhodes Called to Stand
When King testified that a buttress arch dam could be built at Mission Gorge No. 3, Cosgrove started to confront the witness with a report by M. M. O'Shaughnessy, builder of the Hetch Hetchy dam, to the effect that only a solid concrete dam should be built at Mission Gorge, because of the height and danger of earthquake shocks. But the attorney changed his mind.

City Manager Fred Rhodes was called to the stand when King concluded and was questioned by the defense regarding the use to which San Diego's water supply is devoted, the intent being apparently to show that some of the city's water is used for irrigation and other non-domestic purposes.

Rhodes admitted that the city conducted a hog ranch. "Do you use water there?" asked Attorney Charles C. Crouch. "Yes, we give the pigs a drink," answered Rhodes.

Judge Conkling stated that use of water for parks, fire department, street flushing and for supplying commercial institutions was to be regarded as rightly a part of the purposes of a city's water supply.

PLANS BLOCKED
Plans of Col. Ed Fletcher to leave the state on a vacation trip with his wife and family were blocked here yesterday when attorneys for the city of San Diego held him under subpoena as a witness in the condemnation suit against the El Capitan dam site.

In refusing to examine Col. Fletcher yesterday, the city's representatives intimated that they have a surprise in store for the defense, to be sprung when they "get Colonel Fletcher before the jury" possibly next week. Testimony on the valuation of El Capitan and other Cuyamaca properties. They declined to reveal the nature of their expected coup.

Lively times followed the refusal of city counsel to finish with Colonel Fletcher yesterday, just after he had completed his testimony for the defense. Fletcher accused Attorney T. B. Cosgrove of deliberately trying to interfere with his vacation plans, and Cosgrove heatedly announced his intention of taking the witness stand to brand Fletcher's statements as false. Judge Conkling finally intervened as peace-maker.

Fletcher Protests
When Cosgrove had ended his cross-examination of Fletcher, who had been on the witness stand all day, Attorney Charles C. Crouch, of defense counsel, mentioned that the city had subpoenaed Fletcher to appear in court Friday. Crouch asked Cosgrove if he would examine the witness immediately, so that Fletcher might be at liberty to go.

"I'm not going to examine Colonel Fletcher now," said Cosgrove, "because I want him here to testify before the jury on valuation. I am willing that he shall leave the jurisdiction of the court if he desires, on the understanding that the defense shall produce him with 24 hours notice."

SUFFERS CUTS AND BRUISES IN CRASH

B. M. Bowman, cook at the Pen-nant Cafe, suffered minor cuts and bruises about the face at 9 a. m. today, when the automobile he was driving was struck by a machine operated by Joseph Wanderstock, 2651 Romero street, Los Angeles.

The accident occurred directly in front of the entrance to the Santa Ana auto camp, on North Main street.

According to the story told by Wanderstock, his car struck the Bowman auto, as Bowman turned into the main highway from the grounds. Bowman charged that Wanderstock was speeding at the time.

CAR IN COLLISION WITH STOP PLATE

A touring car, driven by E. W. Ehrsam, Los Angeles, was slightly damaged this morning when it hit a boulevard stop plate at Seventeenth and Main streets, after swerving out to avoid hitting another motorist.

Ehrsam, who was proceeding south on Main, made an emergency turn to the west to miss a truck which entered the boulevard from East Seventeenth street.

The front wheel struck the projection and a broken steering gear and a damaged tire resulted. No injuries were received by those in the auto.

Less Athletics Better for Boys. Girls, Is Claim

LOS ANGELES, June 25.—Seventeen per cent of high school boys and 31 per cent of girl students in America are subnormal physically, according to statistics revealed today at the convention here of the American Physical Education association.

Too much dancing and other physical excesses were blamed largely for this condition by the delegates attending the sessions. "There should be more corrective physical education, and less athletics for the youths of high school age," declared Dr. Herbert R. Stolz, state superintendent of physical education.

"Character and health mean more than line and contour in beautiful women," the educator added. "Athletics prepare girls for spectacular demonstrations, while physical education develops health and character."

MANY PIONEERS WILL MEET AT SUNDAY PICNIC

Responses to announcement that pioneers of Orange county will hold a big reunion in Orange county park on Sunday indicate an attendance of 300 or more old-timers, according to George E. Peters, a member of the committee of pioneers in charge of arrangements.

It is expected that many former residents of the county in pioneer days will register present, from many points outside of the county. The occasion promises to be a happy one for the old pioneers, for it will offer opportunity for a large number to renew acquaintances of days when the present highly productive lands of the county were overgrown with mustard, brush and cactus.

The old settlers have drifted apart by reason of removals to other points or by the local developments that have taken place since the early '70s.

There are a number of families in Santa Ana and in the county that located here in the early '70s and it is expected that most of them will be present.

The picnic gathering will be held near the tennis court at the county park. Arrows will direct the way. Coffee, sugar and cream will be provided by the company, with Smart and Final furnishing and brewing the Orange Blossom coffee that will be served.

Cattle Buried, River Dammed By Giant Slide

DENVER, June 25.—A giant landslide has completely dammed the Gros Ventre river in North-western Wyoming, according to word reaching here today.

First reports stated hundreds of cattle were buried beneath the toppling mountain and that timbered slopes of the Teton National forest were laid bare by the onrush of rock and boulders.

The collapse of the mountain-side filled the canyon of the Gros Ventre, forming a lake basin estimated to be five miles long and from one half to three quarters of a mile wide.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them with a Veil;
Remove Them with Othine—
Double Strength

This preparation for the removal of freckles is so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear beautiful complexion that it is sold by all drug and department stores with a guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil or waste time on lemon juice or cucumbers; get an ounce of Othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine; it is this that is sold on money-back guarantee.

We recommend Othine Complexion Soap for use with Othine, also as a shampoo—it's wonderful for bobbed hair—see a cake at all drug or department stores or by mail. Othine Laboratories, Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

WILL TAKE TRIP

Z. B. West Jr., city attorney, who is to take a long vacation in the hope of bettering his health.

TAKES VACATION ON HEALTH QUEST

Z. B. West Jr., city attorney, today announced his intention of leaving the city July 15 to be gone until October 1.

Failing health is responsible for decision of the city attorney to take the long vacation, and his present plan is to go to Weldon, Kern county, and stay at the cattle ranch of his aunt, Mrs. Della Kernodle, a former resident of Santa Ana.

West is not seriously ill, and is taking a vacation in the belief that several months of quiet rest will restore his health to a normal condition.

The city attorney has not been well for the last year, but he has "carried on" in the belief that his indisposition was due to a temporary ailment.

Announcement today that his general health condition was such as to necessitate a long vacation came as quite a shock to the city attorney's large circle of friends.

AFTER LEAVING THE HOSPITAL

Was Weak and Miserable. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Mrs. Auger's Strength

Lowell, Massachusetts. — "I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the little books that you send around and I felt very good about it. I had taken a couple of bottles of it. I had been in the hospital and felt pretty well at first but I went down nothing. I was weak and had to lie in bed almost all day."

I had dizzy and faint spells, pains in my back and lower parts and was so nervous I could not bear my children around. I hope the Vegetable Compound helps other women as it did me. I do my own work now and feel so well. I have told my friends about it and my sister and my aunt." — Mrs. OLIVE AUGER, 19 Howard Street, Lowell, Massachusetts.

Over 200,000 women have so far replied to our question, "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?" 88 out of every 100 of the replies say "Yes," and because the Vegetable Compound has been helping other women it should help you.

Birthday Parties Are Keenly Enjoyed by Young and Old

Seventh Birthday

Little Miss Barbara Jane Davis daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Davis of 1615 North Broadway, celebrated her seventh birthday anniversary very joyously on Tuesday at her lovely home with a dozen of little playmates.

The time was passed merrily with indoor and outdoor games. The children were all seated about a long table when time came for serving the dainty refreshments and received pretty favors of colored balloons and dainty dolls. The table was decorated with pink and white daisies, the tins being repeated on the birthday cake, which twinkled with the required number of tapers.

Those who participated in the joys of the day with winsome Miss Barbara were Mary, Martha and Roberta Tutthill, Roberta McKnight, Nina June Robertson, Betty Hammond, Betty Jane Timmons, Elizabeth West, Billy Lacy, Harriet and Margaret Rutan and Helen Holmes.

At Pindell Home
Master Wallace Pindell, small son of Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Pindell, 512 West Santa Clara avenue, entertained with a jolly party, Tuesday afternoon, for several of his young friends in honor of his fifth birthday.

Lively games played on the lawn by the merry youngsters turned hours almost into minutes. It was a hilariously happy bunch of kids who gathered around the table, dainty in baby blue and yellow decorations. The same color scheme was used in serving refreshments of ice cream, candies and a large cake bearing five colorful candles.

Delightful gifts were given him by the youthful guests among whom were three of his cousins, Masters Chester, Russell and Victor Wallace of Iowa.

Ninety Years Young
Although ninety years have come and gone since Mrs. Penina Binford of 333 Halesworth street saw the light of day, she is still well and with her keen mind keeps abreast of the times, declaring, with a twinkle of her kindly eyes, that she does not "want to be a back number."

Mrs. Binford celebrated her ninetieth birthday with forty of the clan at Whittier last Sunday. The anniversary being made the motif for an annual family reunion of the four generations. The honoree is a prime favorite with all, but gets the most joy out of the young people, while the children like nothing better than to be with "Aunt Pen" as she is lovingly called.

The birthday dinner was served at 1 o'clock Sunday in the dining room of the girls' dormitory at Whittier college, the tables being beautifully decked with sweet peas and Shasta daisies.

Sharing honors with Mrs. Binford with birthday dates near hers, were her daughter, Miss Irene Binford, her great niece, Mrs. Y. G. Hedden of Long Beach and her great-grand-niece, Mrs. William Darter of Marion, Ind., who with her husband and Mrs. Elmer Bogue also of Marion, are sojourning at Long Beach. The birthday cake, honoring the quartet, was lighted with 16 candles and Mrs. Binford was given the honor of cutting the cake.

Mrs. Binford remained in Whittier to spend this week with her relatives.

Lassie Celebrates

A very pleasant birthday party was enjoyed by Anamae Humphrey and her young guests Tuesday afternoon, at her home, 515 Cypress avenue. Many were the games enjoyed on the lawn and time sped by very quickly.

Later came the birthday cake with lighted candles and other delightful refreshments. Those who enjoyed the party were Natalie Neff, Carol Smith, Katharine McConnell, Ernest Long, Ida and Etta Lew Armstrong, Grace Woster, Dorothy Humphrey, Anamae Humphrey, Byron Long, Benton Van Dien, Gordon Beissel and Miss Ninette Rowland, teacher of the girls' Sunday school class. Another guest whose presence added greatly to the success of the party was Anamae's grandmother, Mrs. C. S. Cooper.

Ernest Long assisted Mrs. Humphrey in serving the refreshments.

Wedded Yesterday

A wedding which took place in this city yesterday and which will be of interest to their friends, was that of William James Dougherty of Long Beach and Mrs. Caroline Louise Warrs of Los Angeles. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Barrett of Los Angeles. They will be at home in Los Angeles after July 15.

Pythian Sisters

A delightful 500 card party, with a large attendance of Pythian Sisters, their families and friends, was held in Knights of Pythias hall last evening by Santa Ana temple, Pythian Sisters. The tables were arranged in an artistic manner and were beautifully decorated with carnations and dahlias. Funds derived from the affair will be used by the temple for the purchase of regalia. Refreshments consisted of punch and cake. The committee in charge of the card party was composed of Mrs. Emma Cochems and Mrs. J. A. Gardiner. Winners of the prizes were, first, Mrs. J. H. Parker and J. A. Gardiner; second, Mrs. T. McMullan and A. B. Chandler; consolation, Mrs. M. R. Kellogg and W. R. Ford.

Surprise Gift Shower Compliments Bride Of Late June

When four charming sisters, the Misses Laura, Mary, Helen and Gertrude Banks, dropped in at the Lieberman home, 612 French street, last night to call on a house-guest there, Miss Rosalie Doyle of Hollywood, three of the quartette knew that there was a deeper purpose to the evening, while the fourth, Miss Laura Banks, was completely unaware that she, and not Miss Doyle, was to be honor guest of the evening.

For Miss Helena Lieberman with two friends, Miss Frances Hillman and Miss Ada Markel, had planned a surprise miscellaneous shower in honor of the betrothal and approaching marriage of Miss Banks and Harry Simmons, and were aided in their plans by the other members of the lively group. While they chatted informally, a crowd of close friends, assembling at the nearby home of Miss Clara Kramer, descended in a body and joined the little party.

Cards were at once introduced, hearts being the chosen game. Miss Armilla Klatt scored high and received a dainty hand-embroidered handkerchief while a gay Japanese parasol consoling Miss Gertrude Banks for scoring low. After the prize bestowal, Miss Anna Young took her place at the piano and played Mendelssohn's Wedding March as the doors to the dining-room were thrown open to reveal a pretty scene.

Garlands of crepe paper in yellow and white to conform with the decorations prevailing in the big living room, were festooned from a white wedding bell in the center of the doorway. White marguerites were used in profusion and were scattered in graceful informality over a large table centered with a wedding cake artistically adorned with bride and groom. At each corner of the large table was a smaller one centered with marguerites and garlands to harmonize with other decorative appointments.

The hostess trio served an appetizing salad course followed by apricot ice, yellow cake and the delectable wedding cake which Miss Banks was asked to serve. As the merry crowd still lingered at the table, the door-bell rang and Miss Banks was informed that her fiancé, Mr. Simmons, had called to take her and her sisters home. Going to the door to greet him, she faced instead a large basket of daintily-wrapped packages, plainly marked for her.

The gifts were in wide variety and included household linens, China, crystal, kitchen equipment and many dainty personal gifts for her trousseau. Their examination gave pleasure to the interested guests as well as to the delighted honoree.

The marriage of Miss Banks, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Banks, 702 Spurgeon street, and Mr. Simmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Simmons, 1025 West Fifth street, will be at 9 o'clock of Tuesday morning, June 30, at 9:15 o'clock at St. Joseph's church.

Enjoying the event arranged in her honor by the Misses Lieberman, Hillman and Markel were Miss Rosalie Doyle of Hollywood, and the Misses Mary Maag, Gertrude Hamann and Anna Young of Orange; Mary Banks, Helen Banks, Gertrude Banks, Helen Klatt, Clara Klatt, Armilla Klatt, Genevieve Klatt, Rose Lieberman, Anne Lieberman, Agnes Lieberman, Elizabeth Paine, Hazel Milne, Marie Rudolph, Clara Kramer, Helen Young and Margaret Young.

After a separation of 30 years, and attempts through all his days of manhood to find her, an English soldier, now in Egypt, has been brought in touch once more with his mother, now in Canada. The Salvation Army in Canada accomplished in a few weeks a task that has baffled the soldier for the greater part of the 30 years.

Interesting Details Of Pretty Wedding At Bride's Home

Truly like a summer flower-garden was the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harstine of 813 Birch street, when guests arrived last night to witness the wedding of the daughter Mildred to M. F. Johnson of Los Angeles.

Asparagus plumosa fern trailed over windows, doors and across piano and mantel; roses in tall crystal vases and gladiolas in baskets were massed at the fireplace, hidden behind a blanket of pepper boughs. Dahlias, hydrangeas and sweet peas added to the colorful effect.

At 8:30 o'clock, Al G. Hesse of Long Beach took his place at the piano and Mrs. Gladys Imiah in flowered chiffon, sang sweetly to his accompaniment, "God Make Three Mine" by Herbert J. Brandon and "I Love You Truly," by Carrie Jacobs Bond.

The piano modulated into the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march as the Rev. F. T. Porter followed by the bride's brother, Ralph Harstine and the groom took their places.

The bride's sister, Miss Mildred Harstine as maid of honor was lovely in printed chiffon over pink and carried a basket of pink sweet peas and maiden hair fern. The bride entering on her father's arm, was exquisite in white crepe chiffon and lace over satin, beaded with seed pearls. Her shower bouquet was of white sweet peas, rose buds and lilies of the valley with maiden hair ferns. Her veil was beaded with seed pearls in lovers' knots and caught with orange blossoms.

As the Rev. Mr. Porter read the marriage service most impressively, and Mr. Harstine gave his daughter's hand in marriage.

Many guests were from Los Angeles where the bride has had a position with the Bank of Italy for five years, the last two in the women's department. The president and many of the bank employees were among the guests.

Mr. Johnson, formerly from Hartford, Conn., is a Lehigh graduate, and graduated in mechanical engineering and a position with the Rapid Blue Print company in Los Angeles where the young people will make their home after a week at Coronado.

Refreshments of sandwiches, ice cream, cake, coffee, a wonderful wedding cake decorated with orange blossoms were served. An interesting feature dance yielded attractive prizes of a Japanese parasol to Miss Frances Hillman and a Chinese pagoda incense burner to her dancing partner, Frederick Elliott.

Buffet refreshments of coffee and cake were served ere the pleasant evening drew to a close.

Gay Party Honors Young Visitor

Sixteen lively young people were entertained Tuesday night at the pleasant home of Mrs. Ella Naylon, 1212 Lacy street, in honor of her niece, Miss Marjory Brothers of Santa Barbara who was renewing old friendships while on a week-end visit in this city.

The home, attractively decorated, was arranged for dancing to the music of piano and violin. Iced punch was a refreshing feature at the end of each dance. During the course of the merry evening the scene of gaiety was transferred to Balboa where an interval of dancing at the pavilion was enjoyed followed by a return to the Naylon home.

There, a number of novelties were awaiting the merry-makers among them being the distribution of quilt crepe paper caps each with Chinese pictorial attached. An interesting feature dance yielded attractive prizes of a Japanese parasol to Miss Frances Hillman and a Chinese pagoda incense burner to her dancing partner, Frederick Elliott.

Buffet refreshments of coffee and cake were served ere the pleasant evening drew to a close.

A Four-Piece Suit Gives Two Outfits

Summer clothing worries are certainly put an end to with one of these sports-business, four-piece suits. It's a happy notion, for the man who isn't prepared to invest in suits for each purpose.

Business Suit

The style is a three-button conservative one, but loose in the back and across the shoulders as the modern vogue would have it. And with patch pockets—always the summer suit. Fabrics are light but correct for wear down at the office.

Golfing Suit

The matching knickers are made on the plus-four pattern, bagging quite a way below the knee. That's the new idea, as are knitted cuffs that do away with buttons and slash pockets.

TELLS KIWANIS OF CONDITIONS IN ARCTIC ZONE

Members of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club yesterday enjoyed a trip through the arctic regions of Alaska via an illustrated lecture by Fred H. White, of Los Angeles.

White was on the Bear, coast guard cutter, on its trip to the cold regions in 1920, and made moving and still pictures of many of the interesting scenes found in that section.

He was introduced by J. A. Cranston, superintendent of city schools, as a world traveler and educator, and a man particularly interested in the promotion of visual education in schools. Incidentally Cranston announced that the Santa Ana schools were being splendidly equipped with visual educational equipment.

Discussing, in an interesting manner the conditions and life of Alaska and the frozen waters of the north, White presented pictures of the various types of people found in the cold districts, their habitations, and animal and bird life. He told, in detail, of some of his personal experiences and the hardships and hazards endured to secure some of the pictures. He explained fully the habits of the seals that abound in the waters covered on the trip, picturing the different types of animals. His discourse and pictures were of such interest that he continued his lecture beyond the usual time for adjournment of the club at the request of members.

Many Will Attend Dance

President George Wells and the program chairman carried out a snappy program during the business session, featuring a series of "cracks" at different members of the organization.

Tickets sold at the meeting indicated that 100 or more Kiwanians will attend the dance.

LEADING WOMAN

Iva Shepherd, leading woman with the Griff Barnette Players, who will appear in "The Warning," to be presented Sunday night in the new "Home of Spoken Drama," at Orana, one mile west of Orange.

will be present at the dinner and dance to be given in county park Monday evening. Cotton Mather, chairman of the committee, announced that all plans had been completed and that a big time was anticipated.

He emphasized the fact that women guests of the club would have nothing whatever to do but to eat, dance and enjoy themselves. "The party is to be a courtesy to the women and they will have nothing to furnish and nothing to do, so far as concerns the preparation or serving of the dinner," Mather said.

The festivities will start at 5 p. m., with a baseball game between two teams of Kiwanians. The losing team will serve at the dinner. According to Mather, there will be other sports, with a dance in the pavilion following the "eats." A five-piece orchestra will furnish the music. Reservations must be made by Saturday noon and may be made by telephoning Mather at 2202.

Gift Cantaloupes

A feature of the club dinner yesterday was the serving of cantaloupes and ice cream as dessert. The cantaloupes were sent to the club by the Brawley Kiwanis club as an earnest of its interest in the local organization. The presentation was made through A. F. Crowell, of the Santa Ana branch of the Pacific Southwest bank, who is a member of the Brawley club.

Crowell read a letter from the secretary of the Imperial Valley club, known as the "lowest down club on earth," because Brawley is below sea level, and added the interesting information that Imperial valley, in six weeks, shipped 16,000 carloads of cantaloupes, each car containing 320 crates, and each crate having 48 melons. He pointed out that the production was enough to provide every man, woman and child in the United States with two melons. The cantaloupes were delicious and the secretary was directed to write the club and express the appreciation of local Kiwanians for the courtesy.

SPOKEN DRAMA HOME TO OPEN SUNDAY NIGHT

A score of workmen today were putting the finishing touches on the new theater building at Orana, Griff Barnette, local director and actor, has completed his plans, preparatory to the opening of the "Home of Spoken Drama," on Sunday night, according to a statement made by him today.

"The Warning," a three act comedy-drama, will be the first bill presented in the new playhouse. Rehearsals, which have been held throughout the week, are completed and the show is ready for the public, Barnette stated.

Settings Completed

Stage settings have been completed and most of the inside work has been finished. Seats are now being installed, having arrived several days ago, and nothing now stands in the way of opening the theater on time, it was said.

Free parking space, just south of the theater, is an attraction in itself. An acre of land has been cleared, lights strung, and a man will be in charge at all times. The theater building itself, reconstructed from the old boxing area at Orana, has undergone a great change during the past few weeks. The stage and rear-stage, dressing rooms and other rooms have been added to the south side, and the entire arena section of the building comprises the seating section of the theater. When completed, it will accommodate 800 persons.

New Bill Each Week

According to Barnette's plans at this time, a new bill will be presented each week, each bill to run seven days. "The Warning," the first show, was selected by Barnette after more than 50 plays were read and studied, and, according to him, it is a show that will appeal to all in that it touches on the proper relation of man and wife. Its lesson is clear cut, clean and true, and the comedy strain that runs throughout is of the higher type, with laugh after laugh in every scene.

Members of the orchestra, selected from Orange county musicians, are well known in Santa Ana, and include Leon Eckles, prominent musician here. Since his residence in Santa Ana, Eckles has acquired a reputation as a singer and choir leader, and is also an accomplished violinist. Before coming to Santa Ana he had much experience as leader of concert and theater orchestras. The orchestra is composed of six pieces.

Secured Promissory Notes

—building up acceptable security

× × × × × × × ×

MANY people needing credit for a period not exceeding ninety days prefer to borrow on a note secured by bonds, marketable stocks, or other securities.

Naturally a person making a loan amply secured by bonds or salable stocks is in a position to borrow in larger amounts than the same man could expect to borrow without security.

Since the popular sale of government securities, the general public, as well as men in business, have come to realize the advantage of investing their surplus in good sound bonds, because when necessary, they can always be used as security for loans.

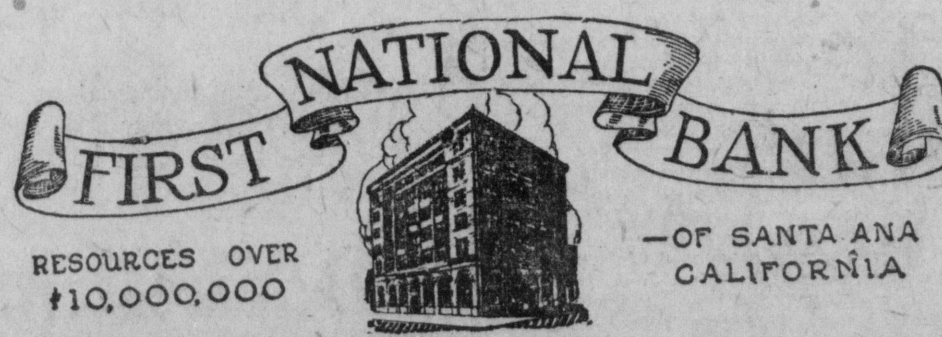

In buying stocks or bonds, the purchaser should always inquire of his bank as to whether or not such stocks and bonds would be acceptable as security for a loan. By so doing, you will build up a reserve that can always be used when necessary without the necessity of actually selling the securities.

The securing of credit based on a note amply secured by marketable securities is a very simple matter.

The officers of the First National will be glad to discuss this matter at any time with you. And our Bond Department is in position to furnish you with all available information concerning the securities which we judge to be good investments.

Entire Country Enjoying
Revival of Construction,
Reports Indicate

The year-to-date and the month-to-date building figures here are both in excess of the 1924 totals for the same periods, it was learned today from Building Inspector W. S. Decker.

The 1924 year-to-date aggregate was $1,086,085. The 1925 figure is $1,141,839, or $55,754 greater than last year's total.

The June, 1924, total was $68,426. The June, 1925, figure is $21,725, or $14,299 more than the June-to-date aggregate last year.

Large Buildings Planned

"These figures are conclusive evidence that Santa Ana is in a prosperous condition," said Decker today. "With two large theaters and several store and residential structures scheduled for erection soon, it would appear that such a thing as a slump does not exist here."

Among those granted permits this week is Mrs. Katherine Westfall of 306 Cypress street, who will erect a $7000 house at 2530 Valencia street. Construction will be by day work.

Will Build Brick House

A brick residence to require the expenditure of $5000 will be erected at 909 South Flower street by William McKague of the same address. The house will have six rooms. The owner will direct the work.

Another $5000 dwelling will be built at 1246 South Birch street by H. L. Fowler of 1210 South Broadway. It will have seven rooms. Construction will be by day work.

Dehn W. Campbell of 2303 Bush street has secured a permit for the construction of a five-room residence at 610 East Santa Clara avenue at a cost of $4000. This home will also be built by day work.

Increase Is General

Information secured by the Southern California chapter, Associated General Contractors, shows that building work in Southern California for May was an increase of four per cent over the figure for the corresponding figure of last year. It is evident that 1925 will be a record year in the Southland, the chapter states.

GLASS FIRM'S GAS BILL PER MONTH, $7000

Local Plant Is Turning Out
650 Boxes Daily, Manager Dixon Says

The Standard-American Glass company is using $7000 worth of gas every month in its big plant in the Central Industrial district, it was learned today from Del Dixon, manager.

Dixon stated that the plant is manufacturing over a car of plate every day. This amounts to about 650 boxes, each box containing 50 square feet of glass.

Plate glass is being manufactured exclusively at the establishment. The Dixon Glass company, of Los Angeles, one of the firms owned by the Dixon family, acts as selling organization for the product made here.

An average of 150 men are on the payroll of the company, Dixon stated. The weekly payroll aggregates $6000, he says.

The Standard-American plant is one of the best equipped in the country, according to experts. It is understood that the plant's entire product for several months is already contracted.

Belgium sand, brought to the Pacific coast by ships using it as ballast, is used exclusively in the manufacture of the glass.

Glass men who have examined the plate glass of the local company declare that the product ranks with the best.

The huge amount of gas used at the glass works makes the company the heaviest user in the community at the present time, it is said.

65 REALTY BOARDS
AGAIN JOIN ASSN.

Since the first of the year, more than 65 of the California local realty boards have renewed their membership on the 100 per cent, three year basis, according to an announcement by the California Real Estate association, made public today.

A few boards in sections where the real estate market is not especially active, are sending in their dues from time to time, the association said, indicates a general improvement in the realty business over the state.

"More boards and members had renewed their allegiance to the California Real Estate association during the first six months of 1925 than for the corresponding period in any other year," the association announced.

"The march of membership is well on the way to 3,000 brokers for the current year, and it is probable that the high water mark of 3,100 established last year will be eclipsed."

The state association, in conjunction with the University of Southern California, has collected really class fees from over 2,000 students, who are nearly all members of the association, and represent classes in 35 cities.

"Nine realty classes have held commencement exercises, and received certificates on completing the course. These certificates, bearing the signatures of President R. B. von KleinSmid of the University of Southern California, and President D. Richard Ainsley and State Chairman Harrison Lewis of the California Real Estate association, bear also the seal and the blue and gold colors of the association. Hundreds of these certificates adorn California real estate offices."

FOR 12-ACRE
ADAMS RANCH

Charles Borchard Secures
Walnut, Citrus Property
On Williams Street

Charles Borchard, of Fairview, has purchased the Cood Adams ranch home on Williams street at a cash consideration of $50,000, it was announced today by C. M. McCain, local real estate broker, who handled the transaction.

The property consists of 12 acres of walnuts and oranges and good house improvements. The ranch formerly belonged to O. H. Burke.

According to McCain, Borchard bought the place with a view to making it his permanent home. Adams has purchased the Leo Borchard residence at 802 South Broadway and will move his family there in the immediate future. Borchard recently vacated the premises and is now occupying his new residence on East Fourth street.

The announcement by McCain of the purchase by Charles Borchard is of interest as indicating that the Borchard brothers are acquiring property in the city for permanent homes. It will be recalled that an announcement was made last week that Antonio Borchard, of Greenville, had bought the Elmer Crawford ranch at the corner of McClay and McFadden streets for $50,000.

According to local real estate brokers, there is a steady demand for well located properties. Ranch property, particularly, is popular with buyers at present, they state.

HOLD COPE STORE
OPENING SATURDAY

The formal opening of the new home of the Cope Electric company at 111 North Sycamore street will take place Saturday. It was announced today by Jack Cope, proprietor.

"Everyone is cordially invited to inspect our new quarters," said Cope, today. "We believe that they present something unique in the way of an electric store, both as to arrangement and decorations. Free gifts will be given away at our opening Saturday."

The new home of the electric company is declared to be one of the most complete in Southern California. A large, airy and well lighted workshop at the rear is a feature.

The Cope store was formerly located at 306 North Sycamore street.

INVITE CHIEF
TO SANTA ANA

President Charles Gilbert Edwards of the National Association of Real Estate boards, who will make a tour of California in the fall, was today extended an invitation by the Santa Ana Board of Realtors to visit Santa Ana and vicinity.

Edwards' itinerary is being arranged by the California delegation at the national realty convention now in progress in Detroit. According to present plans, the realty chief will travel by automobile while in the state and hopes to visit every section.

The realty boards of San Diego, Long Beach, Oakland, Santa Barbara and Sacramento have already extended invitations to Edwards. Edwards plans to attend the state convention of the California Real Estate association in Fresno in October.

THEATER WORK TO BEGIN IN 2 WEEKS

Owing to the fact that architects have been delayed in completing the plans, operations on the theater and office building which the Broadway Improvement company of Santa Ana will erect at the southwest corner of Broadway and Fifth street will not start for another two weeks, it was learned today from D. B. Williams, one of the group of local men comprising the company.

The permit for the structure was taken out last week. Once actual work is commenced, the building will be rushed to completion, it is said.

Plans for the theater structure which the West Coast Theaters Inc. will build at the southwest corner of Fourth and Ross streets, are now being prepared by architects, Jack Retlaw, special representative of the company, stated over the long distance telephone today. Retlaw was unable to state the exact date when construction operations would start.

RAISE FARES ON
PICKWICK LINES

A slight increase is noted in the new passenger rates which went into effect this morning at all points on the Los Angeles-Santa Ana division of the Pickwick Stage system, according to D. Tompkins, district superintendent, in charge of the local office.

The single fare ticket from Santa Ana to Los Angeles has been raised from 80 to 85 cents, and the new round-trip ticket will cost $1.50 instead of $1.40, the old rate.

The new single fare from Santa Ana to Anaheim is 30 cents and round trip, 50 cents, as compared with the old rate of 25 and 45 cents; the new fare to Fullerton is 35 cents, and round trip, 60 cents, as compared with the old rate of 30 and 50 cents.

It also was announced that all 60-ride commutation books have been eliminated and that the 10-ride books have been limited to 30 days instead of 90 days. The prices of other commutation books are the same.

The increase of rates was authorized by the California Railroad commission following representations by the transportation company to effect that with increased cost of operation the old rates did not give a reasonable return on investment.

Automobile Club Estimates
1100 People Are Coming Into State Every Day

RECEIVE OVER 200
INQUIRIES DAILY

Have Spent $172,800,-
000 Since First of Year

With out-of-state motor tourists entering Southern California at the rate of 1100 per day, the motorist invasion this year will not only be bigger than ever before, but will be twice as large as last year, predicts the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California. This average daily rate of 1100 motorists a day, according to the auto club touring bureau, is 33 per cent greater than last year, and about 100 per cent better than the 1923 figures. The check up of motorists crossing the border into the Southland includes all the main transcontinental highways, according to the club.

The figures that have been reported to the auto club show that approximately 150,000 automobiles have entered the southern territory since the first of the year, which, averaging four persons to a car, would bring the number of persons who have invaded this section to approximately 600,000. An interesting side-light on this phenomenal motorist influx is the estimate on the amount of money that is spent by these motorists in Southern California. From previous years' investigations, it is shown that the visiting motorists remain an average of 72 days in the Southland during a six month period. On this basis, and on the conservative estimate of $4 spent by each person a day, it is shown that approximately $172,800,000 will have been spent by the touring motorists by July 1, 1925.

200 Letters Per Day

Don Doig, manager of the touring bureau of the club, points out that his department is answering more than 200 letter inquiries from motorists per day. The letters, asking about transcontinental routes, motoring conditions and relative circumstances in Southern California, come from all parts of the world, with Mississippi river territory and points east sending in the heaviest load of mail. This new record in letter inquiries, which is 100 per cent greater than that of the first six months of last year, is a fair indication that this great tourist rush will continue as strong during the rest of the year, says Manager Doig. Each inquiry is considered as representing one auto that will enter the state during the year.

IN THE DEAD OF NIGHT, what's worse than the gurgling "snore" of a closet tank caused by a leaking tank ball? When company calls, what is more embarrassing?

And from the financial viewpoint—what is more wasteful? The average leak of a faulty tank ball wastes 355 gallons of water per day—which in metered cities costs $25.00 a year.

PROGRESSIVES WORRIED OVER APPOINTMENTS

MADISON, Wis., June 25.—The life of the so-called progressive movement throughout the United States is in jeopardy as a result of the passing of its two leaders, Senators Ladd and La Follette, within a single week.

A curious situation has arisen here in Wisconsin, which probably will result in Mrs. Belle Case La Follette, widow of the leader, going to the senate for his unexpired term—but such a course will only delay the fight for control of the state, which is bound to come. Out in North Dakota the chances of the Progressives holding their own by selecting a successor for Senator Ladd are seriously in doubt.

Republicans have been working strenuously in these two states since the beginning of the presidential campaign for the express purpose of overthrowing the Progressives at the polls in 1926. The almost simultaneous deaths of Ladd and La Follette will force special elections within a few months, at a time when the Republicans are stronger than they have been in recent years. The seriousness of the situation was seen in the statement issued by Senator Norris, generalissimo of the La Follette group in congress, who urged that "the death of our great leader must not be taken as any disintegration of our ranks."

Leaders within the La Follette ranks are frankly worried. New candidates for his senatorial post are being named up every minute. The situation is described by impartial observers as such that the La Follette son, Robert Jr.—obviously the logical choice because of knowledge of his father's affairs and his own ability—would face stiff opposition from those within his own ranks who do not believe he has yet proved himself to the voters. The widow, Mrs. Belle Case La Follette, loved throughout the state as much as her husband, is the only one who can unite the various groups. She does not desire to be a candidate but appeals are being made from every side for her to step forward to save the movement which her husband instituted.

Report Branded By House as 'Pure Rot'

LONDON, June 25.—Colonel House, adviser to ex-President Wilson, characterized today as "pure rot" a published report that he is in Europe for the purpose of advising President Coolidge. "I am merely on a pleasure trip," he said, "with no official or unofficial connection."

Young People to Feast at Church

A service in preparation for the observance of the sacrament next Sunday, will be held in the United Presbyterian church tonight. The pastor will preach.

Friday evening young people of the Sunday school will hold their regular monthly dinner at 6:30, followed by a social evening. The social program will be in charge of a committee of returned college students.

Dr. J. C. Kistler of Pittsburgh, is expected to be present and preach at both services, morning and evening next Sunday. Dr. Kistler is general secretary of the board of Church Extension. He is visiting the Pacific coast at this time in order to be present at the Pacific Palisades conference, Santa Monica, which he is an instructor. A large delegation of young people and others from the local church will attend this conference. Miss Mable McFadden, Miss Isabel Little and Mrs. Grace Anderson will have charge of the local delegation.

ASKS DAMAGES ON BRIDGE CONTRACT

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Aven J. Hanford, Oscar H. Klatt and the American Toll Bridge corporation have been made defendants here in a superior court suit for $533,333 damages, brought by Robert Lee Dunn.

Other defendants, involved in construction of two huge bridges, one over Carquinez straits and the other from Antioch to Sherman Island, are State Corporation Commissioner E. M. Daugherty, who holds 2,500,000 bridge company shares in escrow; the United States Steel Products company, Blythe, Witter and company and Peabody Houghtaling and company.

Dunn asserts he aided Hanford and Klatt to secure eastern backing for construction of the two bridges, costing $5,500,000. The Carquinez structure is to cost $6,000,000 of this amount. Dunn claims the damages for alleged breach of contract.

Nominate Moss As Kiwanians' Chief

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 25.—John H. Moss, of Milwaukee, was unanimously nominated for president of the Kiwanis International for 1926, it has been announced, following a nominating meeting which lasted through the night. Delegates from all parts of the United States and Canada, who are attending the ninth annual convention here, were in attendance.

License Contract Tied Up By Court

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—A temporary restraining order issued here tied up contract by the state for 1926 automobile license plates. The Kittle company, Los Angeles, secured the order after filing suit in the superior court, charging that the B. W. Norton company, while low bidders, could not supply the quantity required.

Aroused Shippers Present Views at Brussels Meeting

BRUSSELS, June 25.—Aroused at what they characterized as misrepresentation of their attitude against foreigners in the coastwise trade, American shipping interests have presented to the United States delegation of international chambers of commerce convention a statement of their views.

They explained that withdrawal of resolutions regarding flag discrimination from the convention program prevented them counteracting the alleged misrepresentation. The statement announced that the interests dissent from the speech of Sir Alan Anderson, representing British shippers, in which he referred to the United States' adherence to the principle of freedom of the seas and the United States support of the resolution passed by the chambers' convention in Rome on freedom of the seas.

The statement says that the Rome resolution did not express American shippers' views; that they believe in the preservation of American coastwise trade for American ships as essential to national defense and building up of an American merchant marine.

Plumber Scores Amateur Tinkers

PORTLAND, Ore., June 25.—Too many amateur tinkers, who call themselves plumbers, are harmful to the trade and to the public, E. L. Bowerman said yesterday, when he told the National Association of Master Plumbers, in convention here.

More than 1500 delegates from 38 states are in attendance at the sessions. Bowerman said more apprenticeships and longer training would remedy the situation.

Issue Writ to Bring Soldiers Before Court

HONOLULU, June 25.—Federal Judge John T. Deboit has issued a writ of habeas corpus against Major General Edward M. Lewis ordering him to produce Paul Crouch and Walter Trumbull, court-martialed soldiers, in court to show cause why they are being held in the guard house at Fort Shafter. It is believed the first writ ever issued by a federal court for military prisoners.

The two soldiers were court-martialed on a charge of spreading communism in the army. They are awaiting transportation to Alcatraz Island, San Francisco, to serve their sentences.

EDUCATOR SCORES TENNESSEE EDICT

BOULDER, Colo., June 25.—Public education in America is seriously menaced if the Tennessee doctrine gains ground that truth may be fixed by count of noses, Dr. George Norlin, president of the University of Colorado, told 3,000 summer school students here.

"I dare say the state of Tennessee has the power to teach through its public schools that the earth is flat," Dr. Norlin said, "that the sun rises and sets, that the moon produces its own light, that moonshine is a beverage, and that any Tennessee cracker may mount on the back of Mr. Bryan's long eared eloquence and ride to the most distant star, if those things seem true to the voting majority of the state."

Charred Bones Of Woman Discovered

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 25.—"Bloody Fourche creek" near here has claimed another victim. The charred bones of a body, identified as that of Mrs. Leola White, 22, have been found in a partially burned pile of driftwood in the creek bottom.

Within the last few years, five women have been murdered in the Fourche creek bottoms—a dismal swamp, overgrown with heavy brush. The place has been the scene of several criminal assaults, as well.

None of the murders have been solved.

THROTTLES wide open—motors roaring at top speed—pilots using their utmost skill—and VENTURA takes the lead and holds it to the finish.

Earl Daugherty's planes flashed across the line to victory in each of three airplane races at the Long Beach Aero Club's recent "Air Rodeo".

You've heard of Daugherty's fleet of airplanes at Long Beach—where over 7000 passengers have been carried without a single accident. Daugherty doesn't take chances with inferior products—he demands the most uniform and dependable gasoline. And for five years he has used VENTURA.

In every motor, VENTURA Gasoline yields clean-cut, positive power, because it is the "heart" cut from high gravity Paraffin-Base crude oil. In it, there is no taint of sulky, lazy kerosene substitutes. Ventura is power—all the power that you can use—and more.

Just watch for the "Red Bell" sign at independent garages or service stations—then fill up with real gasoline.

Officers of Santa Ana lodge of Elks officiated at the initiation of a class of candidates at the Anaheim lodge's meeting last night. About 60 local "Bills" attended the ceremonies.

Among the visitors to the Anaheim meeting was Oscar, the local lodge's mule mascot, who was recently presented with a handsome purple and white blanket and who made a great hit, according to W. M. "Stormy" Gordon, exalted ruler here. The past inner guards of the Santa Ana lodge put on a stunt which was well received.

The Anaheim lodges were invited to initiate a class of candidates here on August 23. Last night's visitation was the second of a series planned by Gordon during his term of office. Pomona and San Bernardino lodges probably will be visited next. A birthday celebration in observance of the local lodge's twenty-third birthday will be held at the next meeting, July 14. At the meeting of the Santa Ana lodge Tuesday night, two candidates were initiated into the order.

MAN WILL BE DICTATOR OF SOCIAL REALM

WASHINGTON, June 25.—A man henceforth will be the social dictator of the national capital, invading women's hereditary realm.

A man, a state department employee, will arrange the details of the official White House functions during the winter social season. From indications, this duty will be performed by Charles Lee Cooke, 58 years old, a small, dapper Washingtonian, who has "managed" hundreds of official functions in 24 years at the state department.

He will take the place of Miss Laura Harlan, daughter of the late Justice Harlan of the United States supreme court and White House social secretary.

President Coolidge has announced the retirement of Miss Harlan. The step is a part of the president's economy plan. Cooke's position corresponds with the "chef de Protocol" or master of ceremonies, in the European capitals.

Much of Cooke's life has been spent in Washington, learning the foibles of Washington official society. He knows that an ambassador must precede a United States senator in a reception line, while a mere minister follows the senators. Socially prominent people here submit their dinner lists to him for proper arrangement, according to precedence.

Cooke is never seen at the state department without a cutaway coat and he wears a black ribbon through his nose glasses. He has a clerk to help him with his work, which includes the drafting of international notes of condolence over deaths of great men, birthday congratulations for monarchs and presidents, and other messages, many of which go forth over the name of the president.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS

WEST END—"Now or Never," with Harold Lloyd and "Percy," with Charles Ray.

YOST—"Vaudeville and Pictures," with Alice Joyce.

WALKER—"Vaudeville and Recoil," with Betty Blythe.

Barbara Bedford has been betrothed and wed many times in pictures, and once in real life, but she claims that Charles Ray is the only one of her assortment of suitors who displayed any originality in the matter of the ring.

In the title role of "Percy," his new picture, which is showing at the West End theater, Ray sits on the window sill with his sweet heart, nervously winding a broken fiddle string around the tip of his finger as he stammers his proposal. When the girl accepts him, he is elated to the point of inspiration. He quickly knots the string and slips it on her finger to bind the engagement. "This beats the dollar down and a dollar a week plan," according to Miss Bedford, and is replevin proof, something that many installment rings are not. Of course a horse hair of a suitable color might work up just as well.

"LITTLE FRENCH GIRL" AT YOST TONIGHT.

Madame Vervier, une femme du monde and the mother of the little French girl, sends her daughter to England to make a suitable marriage, a thing impossible for her to do in France because of Madame's reputation. She is sent to the home of her mother's English lover who lost his life in the war. She is greeted with open arms as the last link with Captain Owen. She wins a place for herself in the hearts of all she meets—Toppie, the Captain's fiancée who is unaware of his life in France—Giles, his brother, Lady Mary and Jerry, her son, a charming youth.

Around these characters has the story of "The Little French Girl" been woven by Anne Douglas Sedgwick—a fascinating tale of Alix's (the little French girl) life in England. How her happiness is nearly wrecked by her mother's life—which proves that one cannot bury past events.

Is she able to make the suitable marriage for which Madame Vervier has striven? Don't miss seeing "The Little French Girl," which opens at the Yost theater tonight, with Alice Joyce, Nell Hamilton, Mary Brian and Ester Ralston featured in the principal roles.

"RECOIL" OPENS RUN AT WALKER THEATER

The latest of Rex Beach's photoplays is "Recoil," based upon a short story of that title. It was shown last night at the Walker theater and proved to be as highly colored, as thrilling and dramatic as any production that has been made of a Rex Beach story. The production was made in its entirety in France and the scenes from the watering resort, Deauville, and from the French River, are extremely beautiful and fascinating. The story is one that should appeal strongly to the general public. It is the love story of an American multi-millionaire and a penniless American girl whom he marries in France on a few days' acquaintance. Their personalities fail to fuse at first and the girl leaves him for another man. The husband, in revenge, decrees that the two shall never be apart from each other for the rest of their lives and the big climax of the picture comes from this determination. The man finally is convinced of the woman's love for him and they seek happiness together in South America. Betty Blythe and Mahlon Hamilton have the leading roles.

MILDRED DAVIS PLAYS WITH HAROLD LLOYD

The popular edition of "Now or Never," showing now at the West End theater, brings Mildred Davis before the public again as the leading lady for Harold Lloyd. The beautiful wife of the popular comedian is contemplating returning to the screen just as soon as baby Gloria Mildred is a little older, but it is hardly likely that she will ever play leading lady to her husband again on the screen. Therefore, it is only in the comedies made before their marriage that this popular and romantic couple of film-dom can be seen together.

Want Ads
Telephone your Want Ads to The Register 87 or 88—when it is more convenient to do so and bill will be mailed the following day. This is an accommodation service rendered free of charge. Want Ad patrons are asked to make prompt payment on first presentation of bill. Bills for ads ordered more than one day in advance are payable on presentation—not at expiration of order.
Always ask that your ad be repeated daily to you by the ad taker to make sure that it has been placed and not allowed to slip through the cracks.
The Register will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time. If such errors occur, the bill will be adjusted to reflect the value of the ad. All claims for adjustment should be made within 10 days of the date of the error. No allowance will be made where the error does not materially affect the value of the ad. The Register reserves the right to classify Want Ads under proper headings.
Cancellation for an advertisement taken, but cancellation cannot be guaranteed.
Ads set in the regular uniform Want Ad style without capitals or white space are computed by the line basis.
The line rates appear at the top of the index.
Ads containing capital letters, distinct type or white space are computed by the line basis, 12 lines to the inch.
There is no Sunday edition. Advertisements received at the office before 11 a. m. will be classified in the evening edition.

Save In Santa Ana
Why mention Los Angeles as a used car bargain center when it is a known fact that practically every automobile dealer in Orange county sells used cars to Los Angeles dealers, to be naturally, bought by them at a much higher figure; and, in addition, a home firm's reputation is much more determinative than the lesser task of dealing without a feeling of uncertainty.
1924 FORD COUPE. $450.
This car is perfect mechanically, having been owned by the expert mechanic. Only run 6000 miles.

Ruth Lost To Yanks As Regular For Season

BAMBINO MAY BE AT END OF GREAT CAREER

Benched In Washington As Ailing Legs So Swollen He Can Hardly Walk

By HENRY L. FARRELL,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, June 25. — Babe Ruth is lost for the rest of the season as a regular and he may be but a few steps from the end of his career.

The Babe was benched yesterday in Washington when his legs became so swollen and sore that he could hardly walk. Before the team left New York it was known that the Babe was not in good shape and that the management had become reconciled to the fact that he could not be used much longer.

It is an established fact that a player in the major leagues lasts only as long as his legs. When he is an old man Babe Ruth may be able to stand at the bat and hit them because a good eye lasts long. John McGraw today can stand at the plate and show a rookie how to hit but he cannot give him an actual demonstration of fielding and base running.

Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker are slowing up, not because their eyes are getting bad or their arms are losing strength, but because their legs are going back on them. Deacon Scott, the former Yankee shortstop, almost passed out of the major leagues for the same reason when his legs were asked on him recently.

For a big, bulky man, the Babe always has had rather slight legs and several veteran trainers expressed the opinion years ago that his career would not be as long as Cobb's, Collins of Speaker's.

They said he was not built to last and that he used himself up too much.

Without the Babe in there every day there is slight hope for the Yankees to get anywhere in the American league pennant race as the team is pretty well shot. It may not finish in the first division and that is quite a drop. He will remain with the team but may be used only as a pinch hitter. Veach and Paschal will play right field.

ZBYSZKO LOSES TO SPANISH CHAMPION

LOS ANGELES, June 25.—Price of beef on the hoof went down last night when Wladek Zbyszko, Polish wrestler and brother of Stanislaus Zbyszko, former world's champion, was thrown twice in straight falls by Don Andres Sastano, Spanish champion. Bibby was the overwhelming favorite before the bout but succumbed to a leg scissor and wrist lock, after 23 minutes and two seconds for the first fall.

Castano kept up his aggressive attack and scored the second fall in the short time of 7 minutes and 36 seconds, with a headlock.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

Eddie Collins, the brilliant playing manager of the Chicago White Sox, and George Kelly, the star all-around player for the New York Giants, lost very little time early this season in establishing themselves as candidates for the prizes offered to the most valuable players in the major leagues.

The name of Eddie Collins, rated as one of the greatest second basemen in the history of baseball, was conspicuous in the ballots cast at each election, but he was unfortunate in having for opposition three players who outshone him in color only. Collins always has been such a perfect mechanic at his business that he did not draw unto himself the spotlight that was attracted by Sisler, Ruth and Johnson.

The rule in the American league provides that a player once selected for the honor becomes ineligible as a candidate for the second or third time and this rule removes practically all the rivals that Collins might have this year for election. Even in an open field, where Sisler, Ruth or Johnson could be a candidate, again Collins would be an outstanding candidate.

Made Real Executive
In his first year as a manager, Collins has shown all the genius of an executive that he has demonstrated as a player for years and years. He took a team that received only scant attention when the experts were making their pre-season predictions about the outcome of the pennant race and got it playing ball at a rate that made it look like a first division certainty. That in itself is worth some kind of a prize. Along with clever management and sagacious handling of pitchers, Collins held up his end of the field work with all his customary brilliance.

Rogers Hornsby, champion hitter of the league and star second baseman for the St. Louis Cardinals, is certain to be a prominent candidate for the $1000 prize in offering the "most valuable player in the National league," and Frank Frisch, captain of the New York Giants, is just as sure to receive a large number of votes, but they do not compare to Kelly when the question has to be answered—"What would the team do without him?"

Frisch was out of the game with a broken finger during the most critical part of the pennant race last fall and the team went along just as well with Kelly on second base in a position that few knew he could attempt, let alone play successfully. The sentiment in New York about the two players was expressed recently when a prominent baseball man, who has had a tough blow in losing Frisch again early this season, replied: "Not tough at all. They'll be just as good with Kelly on second and Terry on first."

Worth Hard to Figure
It is hard to tell what Kelly might be able to do in an extreme emergency. He is the best first baseman in the National league. He is one of the hardest hitters and most dangerous batters in a pinch in the league. He can play second base as well as a number of regular second basemen in the league and he can play the outfield well enough to have been considered a regular by John McGraw. With the exception of Bob Meusel, the Yankee left fielder, no man in baseball can throw with the accuracy of Kelly. It has been said that Kelly is a "none on" hitter, meaning that he can't hit with men on bases and reflecting upon his courage. Nothing could be more unjust than to question his gameness, because he wouldn't be in the major leagues, if he didn't have an iron heart.

No young player ever had the trying time breaking into baseball that Kelly had in making good with the Giants. For some reason, perhaps because of his lack of personality and the awkwardness of his early game—the New York fans did not take to him and the

BARNES' 70 IS BEST MARK IN BRITISH OPEN

Scorching Sun Grooms Golf Stars As First Round of Big Tournament Played

PRESTWICK, Scotland, June 25.—In blazing sunshine 83 qualifiers in the British open golf championship set out over the hard baked course at Prestwick today in quest of the title now held by Walter Hagen.

MacDonald Smith, of California, turned in a 76 and odds against him lengthened from 5 to 1 to 6 to 1. Playing sound golf, Smith went out in 38, three over par. He chipped his drive on the 8th hole and landed in a bunker but he eventually holed a four foot putt for a six on a par four hole.

Cyril Tolley, the former British amateur champion, joined those in the danger zone when he went around in 82.

In the first round Kirkwood turned in a card of 83; Craik, 80; Havers 77 and Taylor 74.

Jim Barnes, the American professional turned in the first good card of the early round with a 70, two under par.

Ted Ray, one of the prominent British professionals and his running mate, Abe Mitchell, came back with cards of 77. Alex Herd went around in 76 and the Irish champion, Moses O'Neill, took an 81. Harry Vardon, British pro, shot a 79.

Too Kirkwood practically passed out of the running with a score of 83. He had hard luck all the way around.

PLAN CAL. TOURNEY TO DECIDE CHAMPS
SAN DIEGO, June 25.—The California Boxing commission is working on a plan which, if successful, will lead up to new world championships in the heavyweight, light heavyweight and lightweight classes. It was revealed today by Louis Almgren, local member of the commission.

The commission intends to draw up a schedule of bouts in a state-wide tournament to pick California champions in those three divisions. After state championships are decided, inter-sectional tournaments will be started, with the co-operation of other state ring bodies. From these will evolve American champions, prepared to fight all comers from foreign countries for the world titles.

It will not be a tourney of hand-picked contestants. Every registered lightweight in California will get mention in the schedule which will be fought off at all arenas in the state. The same goes for heavyweights and light heavyweights.

Brugnon Defeats American Player
WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 25.—America's first major casualty in the British National Tennis championships was marked today when Lawrence Rice of Boston was eliminated in the third round of the men's singles by Brugnon, the French player. The scores were 6-1, 6-4 and 6-1.

razzing they showered upon him would have driven a less courageous player out of baseball. He closed his ears to the stands and kept playing baseball, content apparently that as long as he wasn't discharged he was making good with his boss.

McGraw's faith in Kelly was vindicated and he has seen him rise from the boob of the team to one of the most valuable players in baseball.

S. A. MAN, BASEBALL'S BEST PINCH-HITTER, SAYS YANKS WILL CLIMB WHEN BABE O.K.

That Babe Ruth, the mightiest of all sluggers, is not yet in good shape but is giving his best to his club is the interesting news contained in a letter received by Victor Walker, local sporting goods dealer, from Ernie Johnson, star utility infielder of the New York Yankees, who makes Santa Ana his residence during the off-season.

"No doubt you are surprised to see us down so low," Johnson writes. "We should be higher and will be as soon as 'Babe' gets back into shape. Everything seemed to go wrong with the big fellow out of there. Then Huggins started to shift the club around, which was natural. We had only three men from last year's club in the game for awhile and it certainly seemed strange."

Perhaps his most dramatic performance as a pinch-hitter was staged in a recent game with the Cleveland club.

With Cleveland leading 3-2 and two men out in the last half of the ninth, Johnson was called upon by Manager Huggins to take up what seemed a lost cause.

Real Melodrama
Getting the count to two balls and two strikes, Johnson hit a well pitched ball by Benny Karr. Since Karr had the edge he wanted to make Johnson hit a bad ball. The pitch was shoulder high and about six inches outside.

It is a well known fact that if a batter connects soundly with a bad pitch, the ball travels faster and is harder to handle than one right through the heart.

Johnson hit this ball on a line between two of the game's greatest fielders, Jamieson and Speaker. It traveled to the most remote corner of the Yankee stadium. By fast sprinting Johnson beat the relay for a home run.

The home run tied up the game and New York managed to win in extra innings. It sure was a thriller.

Picks on Cripple
Johnson has no pet theories on pinch-hitting. He likes to get the pitcher in the hole if possible

MAKE CHANGES IN NEW LOCAL INDOOR LOOPS

Robertson-Chandler Squad Admitted to 'A' League And Tustin Put In 'B'

Slight shifting in the personnel of clubs in the two new Santa Ana indoor baseball leagues today caused a temporary delay in the announcement of the full schedule by which 18 local teams will thresh out their city championship arguments. The schedule probably will be released and published tomorrow.

At a meeting of representatives at the Walker sporting goods store last night the joint Robertson-Chandler team was admitted to the Class A league and Tustin, which had been grouped in this division, was placed in the Class B circuit. The league regretted its inability to admit Dutton's Fords to either loop but felt that the Robertson-Chandlers should be given first choice in that they played in the last league and had applied for a franchise in the new association first.

The Robertson-Chandlers have assembled a world of talent and are bound to make an impressive showing in the major league. The team filed the following eligibility list: Earl Jones, Orlyn Robertson, Jimmy Arguello, Fred Windler, Fred Robertson, Ralph Barker, Carl Lacy, Eddie Elliott, Todd Mozley, Carl Trusty, Richard Cronke, L. Daley, Ed Daley and Frank La Plante. Members of this club have been asked to meet at the Poly grounds at 7 o'clock this evening.

The league voted unanimously to retain Al Sanford as head umpire of the two leagues. Sanford was praised for his efficiency in the league which just closed its season.

F. C. Blauer, Sid Allender and Horace Snow were named on a grounds committee to which will be entrusted the responsibility of keeping the grounds properly lighted and marked and to see that the park is vacated and the lights switched off promptly at 9:30 o'clock nightly.

BOWLING

SINSLEY, ELLIOTT TAKE LEAD IN DOUBLES

Sinsley and Elliott are leading the handicap doubles tournament now being conducted at the Broadway academy. Sinsley and Elliott shot a 1142 series. Holland and Jerome are in second place with 1080 pins. Holmes and Snow, third with 1062 and Bird and Whitesell fourth with 1039. The tournament will continue until next Tuesday night.

ANDERSEN ENTERS BOWLING ROLL OF HONOR

Waldo Andersen climbed into "The Big Ten," Santa Ana's roll of honor in bowling, when he shot a 278 game on the Broadway academy drives yesterday. Andersen began his remarkable game with six strikes. He spared in the seventh frame and then struck all the way out.

and then pick on the cripple. He doesn't believe in swinging at the first pitch or two unless the edge is with the pitcher.

Being a hard man to pitch to and having a good eye, Johnson invariably has the pitcher in the hole. Then he whales away at the soft one.

To his faculty of getting the pitcher in the hole and then pitching on the cripple, is Johnson's explanation of the unusual success he has enjoyed in the most difficult role in baseball—PINCH-HITTER.

Golfer In Big Tournament Gets Ace Hole

TROON, June 25.—One of the rarest feats of golf—a hole in one—was pulled here today in the British open championship by Alec Taylor, the British professional star. On the 113 yard second hole, a par three, Taylor's drive dropped on the green and rolled into the cup.

'AD' MAN PENS LIMERICKS OF DIAMOND GAME

"One Hundred Baseball Limericks" is the title of a little book which appeared today at Santa Ana bookstores and on magazine racks from the pen of Charles M. Best, a member of The Register advertising staff.

The author makes this statement concerning his work: "As a player, writer, coach and official, all modestly successful efforts of about and for football, I am handsomely equipped to write of baseball. True, accident and exigency led me to the lotus land of the diamond. Desire on the part of other overcame mine and, well, here they are! Little bubbles from old wine, just uncorked. Like them if you dare."

When pushed, Best picked out these four as his best:

The Fan Helps (the Umpire) Out
The fan in the bleachers says,
"What'll I stir up to help the boys throttle
This deluge of hits?"
He dug up his wits
And cracked the poor umps
With a bottle.

Something Burst
The runner was headed for first,
With speed he never was cursed;
But he saw as he slid
That faces were hid.
It wasn't his speed that had burst.

"Fanning" by Fanny
Said a thoughtful young maiden, named Fanny,
Who was watching a game with her granny:
"Just why do they cry,
'Now fan that big guy!'
With no fan there to fan him, how can he?"

It's Just Terminology
It was plain that in vain she had tried:
"I think that if I'd Know how a game's tied
'Twould explain how a ball can be wide."

MIDDIES ELECT CAPTAIN
ANNAPOLIS, June 25.—John Sylvester of Denver, number six on the championship navy crew, was elected captain of the 1926 eight when the crew returned from Poughkeepsie. He has been rowing three years.

Suzanne Easily Takes Measure Of Bunny Ryan
WIMBLEDON, June 25.—Making her first appearance in singles competition since she defaulted her world's championship last June, Mme. Suzanne Lenglen, the French star, defeated Miss Elizabeth Ryan, the former Californian, in the British national championship tournament at 6-2, and 6-0.

The French girl's victory over the player who had been ranked as her most formidable rival in the tournament was just as easy as the scores indicate. Her game also convinced the critics that she is certain to win the championship again.

Further Interesting Discussion of the Torrens Land Title Law

Editor Register: Mr. Weeks, the Torrens title advocate, says that a Torrens certificate is a judgment of the court and is final and conclusive against the world. True, such a certificate is based on a decree of the Superior court, but it is not final nor conclusive at all. There probably are some Torrens certificates founded on valid proceedings, but I have never examined such a proceeding that I did not find it full of defects and irregularities, and I have had occasion to examine a number of them. The land title law does provide that the decree of court ordering registration shall forever quiet the title to the land and shall be final and conclusive; but in construing that law the supreme court of California has held otherwise and has pointed out that such a law is obnoxious to the provision of the federal constitution, which provides that persons shall not be deprived of their property without due process of law.

Some Examples
Let me give a few examples of these Torrens titles to be found in our own court house:

A resident of Santa Ana owns a small tract of land just outside the city limits. He was persuaded by a kilt solicitor to put his land into one of these land registration proceedings, and to pay the fee which was divided between the solicitor and the attorney. In due time he received one of those "final and conclusive" Torrens certificates. Some time later, the owner of a large tract of land near the small piece which, presumably, had been registered, found that, as described in the registration proceedings, the small tract was located in the midst of the larger parcel. In other words, the owner of the small tract had acquired a part of his neighbor's land under a title which is declared to be "final and conclusive" against all the world. The neighbor was put to the expense of bringing suit to recover his title, and fortunately his attorney was able to find so many defects in the Torrens proceeding that the same court which had ordered the registration did not hesitate to render judgment declaring the Torrens certificate void.

A owns a place near Orange, where he had occasion to give a mortgage on his property and was surprised to find that B held a Torrens certificate on it. It developed that B had attempted to register his own land and by mistake had registered the land of A in the name of B. The result was that A was put to much trouble and expense; but B, having become wiser, rejoiced that he had not succeeded in registering his land.

There is a church in Orange county, owned by its congregation, but registered in the name of an individual who is not entitled to any interest in the property, yet he holds one of the final and conclusive Torrens certificates showing that he owns the church property.

A number of persons owning land near Anaheim fronting on a street that runs diagonally instead of north and south were induced to put their properties in a land registration proceeding. As registered, their titles do not conform to their boundary lines on the ground at all, but are so tangled and overlapped that no one has been able to clear up the hopeless muddle. And remember, they have abandoned their record titles and cannot go back to them.

A very intelligent Orange county citizen registered his land under Torrens title in order to save title company expenses. He sold the land and the purchaser demanded a report by a title company as to the condition of the title. The company reported that the registration proceeding was not regular. The land owner, believing the title company was trying to hold him up because he had a Torrens title, succeeded in persuading the purchaser that such was the case, they closed the deal without the intervention of any title company—one of those cheap one dollar transfers which Mr. Weeks praises. The seller took back a mortgage on the property, which was not paid when due and foreclosure suit was filed. Thereupon the attorney for the mortgagor filed an answer pointing out so many jurisdictional defects in the Torrens proceeding that the mortgagee was afraid to proceed and had to make an unsatisfactory settlement and take back the land with its defective title. He has placed his order to get from under the Torrens title as soon as the law will permit.

Lawyers and Courts
The foregoing are a few samples of the practical working of the Torrens law which have come under my observation. Mr. Weeks will say, however, that those conditions are not due to defects of the law, but to the fault of the lawyers. I contend that any law is defective which does not work better in practice than does this Torrens law; and I charge that this law, beautiful and beneficent though it may appear in theory, is so full of uncertainties, technicalities and vagaries that the proverbial Philadelphia lawyer could not work under it successfully.

As to the court decree, it is impossible for the judge, however able and careful he may be, to watch all the details of these proceedings. They come before him with from a dozen to thirty or forty plaintiffs in one proceeding, and it is a physical impossibility for him to check all descriptions, see that easements, reservations, and encumbrances are properly entered, and that proper personal service is made on all parties as required by the law, and that the decree is properly prepared. The judge must depend on others to attend to those details; the few lawyers who have made the attempt have not been very successful, and apparently have depended on their solicitors to furnish descriptions and attend to service of notices. That service has been made in hundreds of cases by mailing printed slips or leaving them on doorsteps, though the law positively requires personal service where the party can be found in the state. As to lawyers generally, I can assure Mr. Weeks that they are just like title men; many are competent and honest, some are incompetent and not honest, and some are plain crooks.

Torrens Law a Failure
The Torrens Land Title law has been in effect more than ten years. In Orange county there have been 45 land registration proceedings during all of that time. Only a few hundred parcels of land have been registered in Orange county. During the past four years there have been just three land registration proceedings, and during the last three years just one. There has not been a single proceeding for more than a year and a half. No one has been opposing its operation in our county. If it is such a good thing why have the few attorneys who tried to work under it abandoned their efforts? Why have not land owners flocked to take advantage of it?

Because in practice the plan is a failure; because the law has been deliberately misrepresented by those who have used it as a means of making money; because it has been used as a means of duping and defrauding the people.

One of the commonest false representations made about this law is the statement that the state guarantees a Torrens title. I declare such a statement maliciously misleading, and if Mr. Weeks thinks otherwise I will proceed to prove it.

Respectfully,
H. C. HEAD.

Garden Grove

GARDEN GROVE, June 25.—A meeting of interest to young people will be held at the Baptist church Friday, June 26, at 7:30 p. m. when Miss Helen Byrnes of Los Angeles, state secretary of the young people's branch of the W. C. T. U. will speak to the young men and women on the work of Y. P. B.

The Woman's civic club held their annual picnic at Orange county park Friday. Covers were laid for 66 at the picnic dinner. A social time and dancing were enjoyed in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Natland and Mr. and Mrs. James Hammon were Long Beach visitors Sunday. A number from the local Baptist church attended the revival meeting which is being held by Miss Amy Lee Stockton and Miss Rita Gould, Baptist evangelist of Southern California at the Orange Baptist church on Monday evening.

Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Christensen included Mr. and Mrs. William Mills and two daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mills and baby of Newport Beach and F. H. Ayres of Bishop. The Mills families and Mr. Ayres were all former residents here.

The Misses Mettie and Leila Chaffee, accompanied by Miss Maud Rich of Colton, are enjoying two week's vacation at Yosemite. They expect to return the coast route and stop at Stanford where they will visit Clair Chaffee, who is attending summer school at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shields and Mr. and Mrs. James Henry of Santa Ana enjoyed a family reunion at Westgate, near Los Angeles, on Sunday. Twenty-five relatives were present.

Mrs. Frank McConnell spent Sunday in Long Beach.

C. A. Emerson and family visited Ralph Emerson at Hemet on Sunday.

Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Oertly telling of their safe arrival in Switzerland.

F. H. Ayres of Bishop was a guest over the weekend at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. W. Christensen and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dukes entertained the following dinner guests on Monday: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Proctor, Miss June Proctor and Miss Audrey June Odale, all of Whittier.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack E. Hale spent Sunday at Orange county park.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Ford and son, Gene, accompanied by the former's mother, Mrs. Rosa Ford of Santa Ana, spent Sunday at Balboa Beach.

"BACK EAST" on the first Transcontinental

NOW~
They want them in 29 States~

No one can estimate how much the first railroad contributed to the development of the Pacific Coast. But never forget that it brought its rewards to people "back East," too—even in its earliest days. For it transported Eastward many pioneer products of the Pacific—among them Folger's Coffee, Tea, Spices and Extracts.

Away back in 1850 the Western pioneers liked Folger's Coffee. They liked it so well that they told the people back home about it, with the result that Folger's Coffee, Tea and Spices moved to new markets, just as fast as the pioneer carriers could take them. The demand spread until today the people of 29 states buy Folger-marked packages.

The modest San Francisco factory which produced the first Folger Products in May, 1850, grew by frequent additions and expansions. A complete plant—one of the most up-to-date in the country—was established at Kansas City, Mo., a branch was opened at Dallas, Texas, and all because high quality has been the Folger cornerstone for seventy-five years.

So in this our Diamond Jubilee year we pay tribute to the pioneers. We honor their memory with this promise: that Folger Quality and Folger Service shall never change from the high ideals set by our founders; that products bearing the Folger name shall always be of the highest quality—just as they have been for these seventy-five years.

WILL ASK COOLIDGE TO INSPECT KLAN

WASHINGTON, June 25.—President Coolidge will be asked to review and address the mammoth Ku Klux Klan Klavocation here in August.

"The President honored the Holy Name society by reviewing its procession on Pennsylvania avenue last year and by delivering an address to its members; the Klansmen feel they are due the same consideration from the chief executive," a statement issued from Klan headquarters here said.

Klansmen estimate that between 150,000 and 200,000 will attend the meeting and participate in the parade.

The Holy Name society referred to is a Catholic organization which met here last October, before more than 100,000 persons attended.

Says Export Trade Has Upward Trend

SEATTLE, June 25.—After a post-war slump, the trend of America's export trade is "steadily upward." The capacity of the rest of the world for buying is increasing. Things are once more on a stable basis.

This was the message to the National Foreign Trade convention, in Seattle, by James A. Farrell, of New York, chairman of the National Foreign Trade council and president of the United States Steel corporation. Farrell spoke to delegates from all over the United States and from the Orient, gathered in the Olympic hotel for the three-day convention.

Artist Colony to Have City Manager

CARMEL, Calif., June 25.—Carmel, colony of artists, is preparing to be very business like and install the city manager form of government.

An ordinance providing for the new officers was being framed by City Attorney Argyle Campbell, on instructions from the trustees.

Carmel will have $22,000 municipal revenue this year, an increase of $10,000 over last year, said Campbell, and efficient distribution of the funds is desired.

Comics Cited As Asset to Health

NEW YORK, June 25.—Comic strips published through American newspapers are beneficial from a health viewpoint, Dr. Frederick W. Seward, neurologist of Goshen, N. Y., told the American Institute of Homeopathy at its convention here. A measure sense of humor is one of the biggest factors in the illness of many persons, Seward said, while "a calm, even temperament is an invaluable health asset."

Ask Permission To Extend Line

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—A new $2,750,000 electric transmission line application by the Great Western Power company was before the State Railroad commission yesterday. The project is to extend from Brighton, near Sacramento, to Merced, a distance of 104 miles, connecting with the San Joaquin Light and Power corporation system, purchased last year by the Great Western. It consists of a double circuit 220,000 volt steel tower transmission line and sub-station equipment. It is planned to operate the power line initially at 165,000 volts.

ONTARIO—To reduce accidents on county highways at night and to prevent motorists responsible for crashes speeding away and leaving their injured victims helpless, County Traffic Chief Jay Boone is considering plans for a night patrol of motorcycle officers on all important county boulevards. Boone was prepared to take his recommendations to the board of supervisors and the night patrol may go into effect within a week. Within the past few weeks county officers have been called upon to investigate accidents occurring at night in which several were seriously injured.

SANTA BARBARA—Complaints charging the city engineering department with gross incompetency, carelessness, negligence and inefficiency in the handling of public improvement work in Santa Barbara, and with utter disregard for adherence to legal proceedings in connection with street improvement work, have flooded the office of a local newspaper for some time, and particularly since the storm was stirred over the alleged inferior construction work on Alameda Padre Serra and Camino Rey Alberto. Charges that the city engineering department has practiced a policy of defrauding contractors to the disadvantage of property owners of the city who are paying for the street improvement work, have been frequent.

LONG BEACH—Long Beach Chamber of Commerce has pledged co-operation with Southgate in the celebration of the new 100-foot pavement for Long Beach boulevard, there. A fiesta will be held at Southgate July 13 to 18, inclusive. Hal H. Urdall, executive chairman, and Bruce C. Thurman, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce activities of Southgate, visited J. Davis Larson, executive president of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce, this morning to arrange for Long Beach Day, Monday, July 13.

RIVERSIDE—That good ad-

tising should appeal to one of the several fundamental instincts in human nature was the keynote of the address delivered by Hiram Whitehead before members and guests of the Advertising Club of Riverside. "We have all heard the cry that is made to the effect that the quality and service constitutes the best form of advertising," said the speaker. "But despite the very definite value of those two things the fact remains that no matter how fine the goods and service, little business will be done unless the world is told about it." The mere selling of merchandise is far from being the only function of advertising, Whitehead pointed out. Advertising at its best, is a guarantee of integrity and good faith. No business can do without constructive, systematic advertising, it was asserted.

COUNTY OF ORANGE

FROM ORANGE COUNTY TO WNS

NEW DIRECTORS ARE CHOSEN BY CHAMBER BODY

ANAHEIM, June 25.—Six new directors were chosen yesterday by the members of the chamber of commerce to serve on the board of directors during the next two years together with the six who are now serving. The newly elected members include Harry D. Riley, F. A. Yungbluth, Henry Adams, E. M. Smith, Leonard Evans and Dr. H. A. Johnston.

Secretary George W. Reid announced that 176 ballots were cast, indicating keen interest, showing that the successful candidates are the choice of the majority membership of the chamber.

The new directors will be installed at the annual meeting of the chamber which will be held Wednesday night, July 1. At that time the chamber will formally organize for the year.

Fullerton City Employees Will Picnic at Park

FULLERTON, June 25.—Celebrating their annual picnic, approximately 120 city employees and their families will gather in Orange County park on next Monday evening for a barbecue dinner and a dance.

Prominent city officials will be named as cooks, and will furnish the employees with large steaks, regular dinner, and ice cream. Games will be played, and in the evening there will be dancing, to music furnished by a high school orchestra.

Anaheim Club to Broadcast Program

ANAHEIM, June 25.—Plans are being formulated by the Anaheim city club for a radio broadcast, to be broadcast from the Los Angeles stations by local musical talent.

The date of the entertainment will be announced later, according to officials of the club, and details of the program will be disclosed. The club has voted $25 to defray expenses of sending an Orange County delegate to the Girls' Reserve conference to be held at Asilomar ten days, beginning June 28.

CHILD'S BEST LAXATIVE—CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

MOTHER! Even if cross, feverish, bilious, constipated or full of cold, children love the pleasant taste of "California Fig Syrup." A teaspoonful never fails to clean the liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

BALBOA GIRL WINS FIRST IN BEACH REVUE, NOT ENTRANT FROM FILM CITY, ANNOUNCED

BALBOA, June 25.—Miss Jo Ann Fairfield of Balboa, was selected as the winner of the annual Balboa bathing girls' parade and is entitled to the honor of being called "Miss Balboa" in future parades this year, according to Madame LaRue, who managed the parade. Madame LaRue said that the Register, the Examiner and several other papers had, by mistake, given the title of "Miss Balboa" to Marie Messenger of Hollywood, who was declared the girl in the parade with the most perfect form.

When the judging was started Miss Messenger was introduced first and the impression was given some, it was said, that she was entitled to the title "Miss Balboa," whereas according to Madame LaRue, such was not the case at all, the judges having decided that Miss Fairfield was clearly entitled to the honor.

Miss Fairfield was introduced second and tended to increase the confusion, it was declared. Miss Fairfield won a screen test with the Warner Brothers studio and Miss Messenger, who is a sister of "Buddy" Messenger, screen starlet, a similar test with the Hal Roach studio.

Madam LaRue said that the promotion manager of a Los Angeles morning paper was not pleased that his candidate did not secure more attention than was paid her and that she was not extended special honors and privileges, other than that of leading the entire parade.

Dam Association Secretary Talks Before Rotarians

FULLERTON, June 25.—Showing the imperative need of completion of the Colorado River project, including the Boulder Dam, Burdett Moody, secretary-treasurer of the Boulder Dam association gave an interesting and instructive talk to the members of the Fullerton Rotary club yesterday.

Moody told the Rotarians that they could expect the support of President Coolidge when the Swing-Johnson bill is presented to congress at the next session.

MORE ROOM ASKED BY LIBRARY BOARD

FULLERTON, June 25.—Members of the Fullerton Library board appeared before the city council at their regular meeting last night in an appeal for new building for taking care of the rapidly advancing juvenile attendance.

Mayor H. H. Crooke showed the visitors that no action could be taken on any appropriation until the exact amount which the city would receive had been ascertained, and appointed a committee consisting of W. J. Carmichael, Roy Davis and W. A. Moore to meet with the board and try to reach a decision about the matter.

RAPID GROWTH OF BANK OF ITALY

With a natural growth in deposits of more than $218,000,000, the Bank of Italy is again bringing a national record to the Pacific Coast.

In an announcement that was being published yesterday, the institution shows an increase during the twenty years of its existence of $325,000,000, of which amount more than 65 per cent has been normal growth. Officials of the bank call particular attention to the fact that only 35 per cent of its deposits have been acquired as the result of the purchase and consolidation of other institutions.

It is pointed out by officials of the bank that more than ten years were spent in laying the foundation for the development of the bank and it was not until 1916, more than a decade after the bank's establishment, that the growth was phenomenal, in any respect.

PAINT COMPANY AT ANAHEIM IS BIG SUCCESS

ANAHEIM, June 25.—Success of one of Anaheim's pioneer industries, the Anaheim Paint and Paper Company, was disclosed here today by L. Lund, owner and manager of the concern who has been in business in this city for more than twelve years, manufacturing virtually everything used in the process of general painting, his line of products including paints, varnishes, stains and enamels.

At the present time, the firm, which has grown steadily with the city, is supplying many Southern California individuals and concerns with made-in-Anaheim paints. The local manufacturer has been actively engaged in the business of producing "better paints," for 37 years. His experience has varied from the manufacturing of paint for the United States government to the superintending of departments in some of the largest paint factories in the country.

Lund's establishment is now located at 155 West Center street, but he plans to build a large factory here in the near future.

Campfire Girls Are Given Flag By W. R. C. Women

BREA, June 25.—The Camp Fire Girls of Brea entertained the W. R. C. at the last regular meeting of the W. R. C. at Odd Fellows hall, Fullerton.

After the entertainment was concluded the W. R. C. presented the girls with a beautiful American flag. The girls were accompanied by their leaders, Mrs. W. E. Jackson and Mrs. Stella Kier. Mrs. Ed Lewis and Mrs. Jackson leader of the two groups, Shumala and Kiger is leader of the group named Tamakwa. Last week the Tamakwa group enjoyed a hike into Brea canyon.

Brea Folk Will Celebrate July 22 At County Park

BREA, June 25.—The town of Brea will close up business and have a big town picnic July 22, if present plans are carried out. This is the first time that Brea has ever attempted anything of this sort but it is expected that it will be a success.

Plans are being made to have plenty of amusement of various sorts. The picnic will be held at the Orange County Park.

Says He Lost Job; Employer On Jury Rehires Aged Man

CHICAGO, June 25.—A grey haired old man came before Judge Arnold, of the juvenile court, to ask for assistance for his wife and children.

"I lost my job at the International Harvester company because they say I'm too old," he said.

"You go back and try again," Judge Arnold suggested, raising an eyebrow at a jurymen who has been serving a daily stipend of $3.

The old man later reported he had his job back. The man in the jury box was Harold F. McCormick, multi-millionaire head of the Harvester works.

Mesa Men Will Aid Campaign For Port Bonds

COSTA MESA, June 25.—Plans to place the benefits to be gained by farmers of Orange county, by the improvement of Orange county harbor before the farmers themselves were discussed at the regular meeting of the Orange county Harbor chamber of commerce Tuesday evening. The meeting was in charge of Dr. C. G. Richter, in the absence of Dr. C. G. Huston, president.

There was general discussion of the bond issue to come before the people this fall, and campaign plans to get the project before the people in its best light, were laid. The meeting was held at the Woman's clubhouse at Costa Mesa. About 150 members attended.

Booster talks for the harbor project were given by A. E. Block, T. B. Talbert, George Peabody and Lew H. Wallace. A banquet was served at the clubhouse for the members of the chamber.

S. R. BOWEN IS NEW PRESIDENT OF LIONS CLUB

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 25.—S. R. Bowen was yesterday elected to succeed Clark H. Reid as president of the local Lions club. Bowen was elected by a unanimous vote. He is also the president of the chamber of commerce.

Dale M. Peters was elected first vice president. Other officers elected were James Morris, second vice president; William R. Wright, third vice president; C. N. Whitman, secretary; Ed Manning, tall-twister; R. J. Prescott, Lion tamer; Clark H. Reid, and Richard Drew, directors.

Sleight-of-hand performances by Capt. William Ament were one of the features of an excellent program. Musical selections were rendered by Miss Mildred Moore, Miss Wilma Pothoff and Miss Dorothy Van Claire. James Morris and John Barlow were the chairman of the program committee. Robert Peters and Bert Gohard will be in charge of the program next week.

"KEYS" PLAY AT BEACH PLEASES BIG AUDIENCE

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 25.—A strong cast, including L. Wood White, professional actor and a member of the cast of the "Mission Pageant of San Juan Capistrano," last night presented "The Seven Keys to Baldpate," at the city auditorium here. The play is being given under the direction of Miss Pearl M. Fishback, and is under the auspices of the American Legion.

The play is to be given again at the city auditorium tonight and tomorrow night. The proceeds of the production will be added to the orphan fund of the American Legion.

White takes the leading role in the melodramatic force, which is that of a young writer, who has made a wager to write a novel in 24 hours. He selects as a setting for his novel "The Baldpate Inn."

One of the characters of the play is the hermit of Baldpate, played by Thomas Watson, a 78-year-old recluse, who lives near here. Ed Manning, Mrs. Charles Furr, Dr. L. A. Olmstead, J. A. Armitage, Miss Ruth Mitchell, Miss Lillie Wisdom, Miss Mildred Moore, J. A. Morris, H. N. Morse, William Kornutt, J. I. Vallin and L. W. Blodgett are other members of the cast.

ELECT PATTERSON AS CHAMBER CHIEF

COSTA MESA, June 25.—William Patterson was selected to lead the local chamber of commerce for the coming year, Monday night, following the resignation of F. A. Daley as president.

The local chamber of commerce, which recently has been thoroughly reorganized and has merged with the Commercial club, is now on a basis to work for the good of the town, according to officers of the organization.

A. E. Block was elected to the directorate of the chamber, following the resignation of A. J. Palmer.

Buy Your Studebaker—Now!

You may buy a Studebaker today—or on any day of the year—with the confident assurance that no act of ours will stigmatize it as a "last year's model"

STUDEBAKER has discontinued the custom of presenting a new line of automobiles each year. Instead of bringing Studebaker cars dramatically up-to-date once in twelve months, we shall keep them up-to-date all of the time—with every improvement made available by our great engineering and manufacturing resources.

Improvements and refinements, of course, will be made from time to time. New features will be added. As in the past, we shall continue to pioneer all vital betterments. But Studebaker will have no yearly models to make your July car obsolete in August.

A dramatic story
There is a dramatic story behind this new Studebaker policy that vitally concerns everyone who expects to buy an automobile this year.

Amazing records of Studebaker performance and endurance prove beyond question that the present line of Studebaker cars is so soundly engineered and manufactured and so satisfactory in the hands of owners that drastic annual changes are not required.

Authentic reports show that hundreds of Studebaker cars have given from 125,000 to 400,000 miles of sturdy, dependable service. One Studebaker Big Six, used as a mail car, traveled almost 500,000 miles in 5½ years, giving 24-hour round trip service between Bakersfield and Los Angeles, California.

Stupendous mileage! But the same stamina and rugged dependability is built into every Studebaker that leaves the factory.

A Studebaker taxi in Jewett City, Conn., has traveled 31,008 miles without even having the valves ground or the carbon removed.

In Stockton, Calif., a Studebaker Big Six has piled up 138,000 miles over steep mountain grades and rough country roads with negligible upkeep—not a single major part has been purchased or repaired by reason of wear or accident.

It is a significant fact that wherever travel conditions are most severe, Studebaker by far outsells its normal proportion of cars.

Bus Operators, Rent-a-Car Companies, Police and Fire Departments—all turn to Studebaker year after year for their transportation equipment, because they have found that it always yields scores of thousands of miles of reserve transportation, and has low upkeep costs.

At the mileage when other cars are breaking up—Studebaker cars are breaking in. It's the second and third fifteen thousand miles that prove Studebaker superiority. It's this reserve mileage—even though you may never use it—that greatly increases Studebaker resale value.

Stamina is in-built—inherent—a vital and indispensable part of the Studebaker formula for building fine motor cars.

Buy this "One Profit" car now
Remember—under this new Studebaker policy—there is no need to delay the purchase of your new automobile until annual changes have been made. Come in and see these sturdy, dependable, "one-profit" automobiles. Today Studebaker offers greater values than ever before. It is sound judgment to buy now.

EVENING SALUTATION

I believe there will be homes and home-making as long as there are men and women upon the earth. Machinery, education and politics are useful, but love, truth and righteousness are the foundation stones of both home and national life.—Prof. Isobel Bevier, University of Illinois.

WATER FOR ATHENS

It is not at all probable that any considerable number of those who contributed to the defeat of the proposed water bonds, Tuesday, did so because they thought Santa Ana's present water works would meet the city's requirements for the next 1800 years, or even for the next 25 years. But if any of the anti-bond voters did take that point of view, they will find support and approval in the experience of Athens.

Andre Michalopoulos, who was private secretary to the Greek statesman Venizelos, is now in America studying municipal water systems, preparatory to establishing a modern waterworks in Athens. The old Greek capital, he says, had 125,000 people 25 years ago, and now has 950,000. There is growth of which any American metropolis might be proud. Yet Athens is still served by the waterworks established by the Roman Emperor Hadrian 1800 years ago.

Yes, whatever anyone may think as to Santa Ana's needs in this respect, all will probably admit that it is time Athens had a new water system.

But don't rub it in. It was Athens that taught the world to use water. And Rome, which learned bathing from Athens, constructed as fine aqueducts as any now in existence, and finer public baths. Give those countries full credit for the cleanliness which antedated godliness, even if they did lapse from the faith for a few centuries.

If diplomatic exchanges between Washington and Mexico City must be saucy, better use mayonnaise than tobacco.

"NATIONALISM"

Not through war, not through politics, and not through nationalism, Canon Elliott of Liverpool Cathedral tells Americans, will peace come among the nations. It will come through "fellowship and exchange of ideas."

He makes a valuable distinction in words. "Nationality," he says, "is a beneficent fact. But when it degenerates into nationalism, it becomes an international danger. For nationalism is sectional and dividing. We must help to get all the nationalities a full opportunity to make their contribution to the world."

Excessive "nationalism" has been the curse of this post-war period. In a craze of self-determination, nations big and little have grown so cocky, self-assertive and jingoistic that it sometimes looks as if every country in the world has taken to goose-stepping and sword-rattling.

This is swollen egotism, not patriotism. True patriotism, like true culture, or gentility, gives the other fellow his due and is deep and reserved until the time arises for action—not blatant and bickering on all occasions.

What the world needs is not rampant "nationalism" but self-respecting "nationalities" which, instead of strutting and bragging, are proceeding quietly to make the utmost of themselves, develop their own strength and genius and work along with other nations for the common good of mankind.

"Oh, what is so rare as a day in June" that is what a June day ought to be? Like those we have in Santa Ana.

SAUERKRAUT

The National Kraut Packers' association—yes, there is such a thing—has been holding a convention. "We are here to talk sauerkraut," the secretary announced, and they did.

"This," he explained, "is a subject that is interesting doctors, scientists and dieticians all over the world. Sauerkraut is, in fact, one of the gifts of the gods. People will live longer and better if they have it oftener on their tables."

It develops that there are 45 ways to prepare this succulent food, and all of them presumably delicious. Among them are kraut salad, escalloped kraut, kraut pie and kraut cocktail. This last is an article whose possibilities seem to have been oddly overlooked by a certain "liberal" element.

"It's a most delectable drink," declares the Kraut secretary, "especially in hot weather." And while he gives no figures, he reveals the intriguing fact that it contains more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol. In some American localities, this revelation may suffice to give sauerkraut new popularity in every one of its 45 forms, as long as it remains safe from search and seizure.

Jazz may be "dead," as repeatedly announced by musical critics, but if so, it's ghost is certainly haunting the dance halls.

HOW TO LIVE LONG

A centenarian, vigorous enough to do a dog-trot on his hundredth birthday, gives this recipe for living to a ripe old age:

"Take care of yourself. Get plenty of sleep and don't stay out late nights. When you know you've got to make a living, be careful. Try to make a man of yourself. Don't get married until you get enough sense."

Nobody can tell anyone else how to live a hundred years, but this homely advice is probably as good as any phrased in more scientific terms. "Take care of yourself" is the main point. And most people really have a pretty good idea how to do that, if they would only apply what they know.

As for marriage—if people took this old gentleman's advice literally, how many of them would ever marry?

DAYS WELL WASTED

The boats leaving for Europe are filled with Americans on vacation jaunts. They leave behind them, here in the States, numerous millions whose vacations and purses are not long enough or fat enough to take a European tour. And are they down-hearted? No!

Lakes and streams, woods and fields and mountains, golf courses and smiling farms are taking care of these. By motor car, by foot, by boat or train, singly and in groups, the people are taking the gifts that summer offers them with lavish hands. The outing may last only a day or it may last through the summer. The length of time matters little if it has been thoroughly enjoyed, if summer breezes have given their freshness to the human spirit, if summer sunshine has tanned the face and put new vigor into the body.

A vacation is what the vacationer makes it. All outdoors is ready and wonderful. Happy is the busy mortal who realizes in time that a day well wasted is as eternally valuable as a day well spent.

How the Courts Operate

San Bernardino Sun.

Here are two contrasting incidents. Two negroes were convicted of attacking women by a Dallas, Texas, court May 28 in just one hour and nineteen minutes after their cases were called, and will die on the gallows June 28, the date set in their sentence, without much doubt. In Chicago the attorneys in the Shepherd typhoid germs case spent four weeks selecting a jury. Should the trial result in a conviction, which is far from probable, an appeal will be taken and the case fought in the upper courts to the exhaustion of the last conceivable technicality. These two cases are the positive and negative of court procedure in the United States.

Often we hear used the trite saying that "there is one law for the rich and another for the poor," but that is not strictly true. The Dallas court which made such great speed and the Chicago court which lags so tremendously in getting a good start, are operated under practically the same laws and regulations. It is not the laws that are to blame, but the judges and attorneys who manipulate and misuses them. That is what makes court reform in this country almost a hopeless task.

At a meeting of the national bar association recently one of the attorneys who delivered an address said that the blame for the failure of justice and whatever effect that had upon the deplorable increase in the volume of crime lay upon the shoulders of his fellow lawyers. The manipulation of court rules, the struggle to win cases and free criminals regardless of the equity or justice of the situation, the taking advantage of every possible technicality to delay and nullify the action of the courts, the complaisance of judges on the bench with such tactics, and many other practices not specified, all combine, he said, to render the courts practically powerless. If all that be true, and it seems to be not this man's opinion only, then the bar associations that appoint committees on court reform should know where to begin.

Engineering Counsel Necessary

Riverside Press.

Engineering skill is a requisite to competent plans, efficient and economical construction and practical workability of any such undertaking as the proposed improvement and extension of the Riverside municipal water system. For this reason, regardless of acquaintance of municipal officials with the needs or plans as formulated by the water department or previous engineering advice, the city council is taking a proper step in submitting the entire plan to a competent engineer of experience for a survey and suggestions before submitting the bond issue to the people.

When a proposal is submitted to the taxpayers of a municipality for an expenditure of $400,000 to $500,000 on a single improvement, the people whose money is to be spent have the right to demand that plans for the project are thoroughly perfected and approved by the best engineering talent available. The time to correct faults, if there be any, either in construction plans or results to be expected from the completed work, is before the bonds are voted. If the council will insure the economy and practicality of the proposed improvements of the city's water system, there should be no doubt as to outcome of the bonds. The necessity for the improvement is well recognized—no argument is needed on this point.

The voters of Riverside will await with interest the survey of a competent consulting engineer on the proposed water system improvement—they will base their vote for or against the bonds on the basis of his recommendations.

That Way Lies Happiness

Long Beach Press-Telegram.

It is inspiring and refreshing to note how many young couples, here in California, are working together, and managing, and saving, to buy a home. They are so earnest, and zealous, and eager about it, and the striving gives them so much pleasure, even though it involves little sacrifices, that one wonders why more couples do not do this. This way lies the road to independence and to happy life under the most propitious circumstances.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. CLIFFORD C. ROBINSON

CAUSE OF HEARTBURN

Some gas is present in the stomachs of most persons, to a greater or less degree. This condition is usually most pronounced, not in all cases, however, during the process of digestion.

It is by no means an unnatural condition. When the stomach is busy mixing up the gastric juice with what you have sent down, the trouble is apt to occur. If your food has been hastily chewed and swallowed or if you have washed it down with copious draughts of water, tea or coffee, to hurry the process of swallowing, you are likely to have gas.

The kind of food also determines to a certain extent what the amount of gas will be. Peaches or other acid fruits, if eaten hastily, will often cause rapid formation of gas in the stomach, with a tendency to inflation and heart pressure. Hot bread or biscuits hastily eaten will also cause gas during digestion.

The burning or gnawing sensation which is called by many persons heartburn is a result of this gas formation and acid outflow. The name really means heart pain, or as many physicians term it, Cardialgia.

The food tube, or esophagus enters the stomach at the cardiac valve or opening which is rather in close proximity to the heart. The pressure of the gas in the stomach often causes the acid material from the gastric juice to escape through the cardia into the lower esophagus. The regurgitative sensation, together with the pressure, causes the uncomfortable, rather irritating heartburn.

Occasional heartburn means nothing to worry over except your own bad eating habits. Careful attention to the proper chewing of your food and the right selection, avoiding those foods which cause the disturbance, will usually suffice.

A simple home remedy which will do much to relieve the acidity is milk of magnesia—dose, a large tablespoonful. Common saleratus (bicarbonate of soda) may also be used. A teaspoonful in water once or twice a day is beneficial. It may cause belching, but it relieves the condition.

Do not use a severe or harsh physic as this may serve to aggravate rather than relieve your heartburn.

The President to the Cadets

Dearborn Independent

Except when he is making those routine addresses intended for a race or organization avid of public praise, our President grows wiser and wiser; he expresses the American mind with increasing aptitude and accuracy. His address to the cadets graduated at Annapolis was a plain and yet profound exposition of what devolves upon him as President, upon them as officers, and upon all of us as citizens. As President it is his double duty to maintain at high efficiency the national defense and at the same time maintain international relations in such friendliness as that defense need not be used. He rightly says that no nation will ever be able to erect so overwhelming a defense as to render it wholly immune from attack by reason of the fear it inspires. That immunity can only be secured by the maintenance of right international relations. As President it is one side of his duty to try to maintain them. Peace does not come by fear but by faith, the faith of peoples and governments in the honorable intentions held one toward another.

Mr. Coolidge, whom none thought to be a literary man—as no one thought of Abraham Lincoln as a man of letters—is developing a singularly engaging form of public address. It is very easy for the man in the street to read. The President's thought is so thoroughly clear to himself that he is able to express it in simple English to his hearers and readers. He says what he has to say, and leaves it there. He does not rant. He does not wave the flag. He does not denounce or threaten or promise or seek for skyrocket eloquence. He uses no superlatives, few adjectives. All this is not only a gain in clarity, but it leaves room for his sincerity to become evident. The addresses he has been giving the country lately constitute important lessons in citizenship. They are of such character that schools and clubs and churches all over the country might well make place in their programs for the public reading of them again.

Worth While Verse

LIFE IS SWEET

A friend claps hands,
Bright shines the sun,
The flowers are nodding
Every one.
Birds sing in trees,
And beauties meet
Us at each turn,
And life is sweet.

Clouds in the sky,
Like ships that drift,
And dreams that come
And lift and lift
The sordid street.
The day has love
And life is sweet.

The sorrows pass
Quick and are gone,
Through the long grass
The winds blow on,
The air is cool,
And ripples fleet
Lie on the pool,
And life is sweet.

Come, walk with me
As friend with friend,
And read the story
To the end.
Love, work and play,
So let us greet
The world today,
Yes, life is sweet.

—James W. Foley in Pasadena Post.

Me and cuzin Artie was walking along wishing we had a ice cream cone and different things you can get without money, me saying, G winnickers, I had 13 cents the day before yesterday, and today I aint got a cent, G wizz I don't know war all the money goes to.

Me neither, holey smokes - the more I get the more I don't seem to have, G roozalee the high cost of living is farsee, Artie sed.

Wich jest then I saw a lady handkerchief laying on the pavement, looking kind of muddly as if different people had stepped on it but all the outside of that, me saying, G, maybe that lady dropped it and maybe if we run after her and give it back to her maybe she'll offer us a reward, maybe. G wizz, hurry up, Artie sed.

And we each took a hold of one end of the handkerchief and ran after her saying, Hay lady, did you drop this?

Wat, that derty looking thing, how dare you ask me sutch a question? Take that away from me, the lady sed.

Being a short round lady with bob hair, and jest then we saw another lady looking eround on the pavement as if she lost something, and we hurry up ran up to her saying, Heer it is, lady, we found it.

And we held out the handkerchief, me still holding one end and Artie holding the other, and the lady sed, O, thank goodness.

And she turned eround and took the handkerchief and then she made a noise as if she thawt she had saw a mouse and quick dropped it agen, saying, Wat do you meen by putting sutch a looking object in my hand, Im looking for my door key, that's wat I lost. My goodness I nearly fainted wen I saw wat I was holding, go on away from heer before I give you each a good slap, she sed.

Wich we did, still not having eny reward.

Enemies of Science

W. E. Allen, California Bacteriological Features Service.

A few weeks ago, Professor B. C. Gruenberg, a noted educator and officer of the American Association for Medical Progress, visited the Scripps Institution and gave an instructive lecture in which he used the striking phrase, "enemies of scientific progress."

He classified such enemies according to their reasons for enmity, and thus recognizes three main groups: Those whose self-interest is affected by progress; those whose spiritual beliefs or attitudes are involved, and those whose ignorance causes them to fear the methods and the equipment of science.

Individuals belonging to the first group may also be ignorant and intolerant because of fixed beliefs, but many of them have good scientific training and information. A day laborer who has been accustomed to making a good living by digging out stumps of trees from ground being reclaimed, resents the scientific use of explosives for doing that work. Such scientific progress seems to him a threat against his means of subsistence. However, his resentment may be no greater than that of an inventor of a good radio circuit, who finds his work made valueless by a still better circuit discovered by some other man. The natural opposition of such men is often controlled so that no harm is done by them to science, but this is not true of the multitude of impostors, charlatans, and quacks, who find themselves frequently checked by the spread of scientific knowledge.

A man who has carefully cultivated in his neighbors a firm belief in the healing efficacy of some hazardous concoction or of some charm or of some incantation or of some prayer formula is always violently opposed to any information which may cause his victims to understand his deceptions and to desert him.

People who oppose scientific progress on "spiritual" grounds are necessarily narrow and bigoted, because their whole opposition is based on the one-sided idea, that man must be guided by "feelings" rather than by reason. Their opposition is always bitter because personal "feelings" do not allow any tolerance of the reason or even the "feelings" of another person. Just why they should glorify "feelings" as God-given guidance and despise the equally God-given reason which is the basis of all scientific progress is one can say, or at least, the honest members of this group are not sufficiently numerous to give much obstruction to scientific progress. Their influence is chiefly harmful when allied with and manipulated by the first group, those following self-interest.

Enmity to scientific progress due solely to gross ignorance is not seriously detrimental, except in rare cases. Associated with enmities of the other groups, it becomes very powerful and dangerous. Even then, partial ignorance is more often to blame than complete ignorance. In fact, any one of us is likely to cause hindrance in some line which we think we fully understand but which requires further investigation or more expert attention. An excellent example of this is shown by our attitude toward the common disease called a "cold." Most of us have had so much experience with it, that we think we know how it ought to be handled, when, as a matter of fact, we do not even know how to recognize it. It has been some generations since medical science advanced far enough to show that there are several specific diseases which begin like a "cold," but it is only in recent years that investigation has shown that there are different kinds of "colds" according to the germs causing them. These investigations have already resulted in improved methods of prevention and treatment about which most of us know and care nothing. Some of us allow our ignorance to be neutral, others use it to oppose medical improvement, while still others acknowledge it and encourage such progress as will relieve and counteract it.

It is manifestly impossible for any individual to give active encouragement to all scientific progress (accumulation and correct use of exact knowledge), because the field is infinitely large, but he can give encouragement to progress in some branch which he knows, and he can, at least, avoid acting as an obstructive enemy to scientific progress.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 22—EVERYTHING HAS ITS USE

"You cannot have my daughter," said the wicked queen to the prince, "unless you earn her."

Get me a red turquoise at once!" "Then what happened?" asked the prince. "Did he get it?"

"Sure," answered Mi O' Mi, the Story Teller Man. "Or rather his queer servants got it for him. The man who could stretch himself as far as he liked, looked on the moon without moving and picked it out of the Moon Man's well."

"Now may I have her?" asked the prince, handing the red turquoise to the queen. "A sort of a witch and cast a spell over everybody, and they all fell asleep. But the stretchy man shrunk so when he slept that his head hit a post and woke him up and he gave the alarm."

"The princess is mine!" cried the prince.

"Then take her," shouted the bad queen. But turning to her daughter she said, "I'd had to be saved by a lot of servants."

"That's right," said the prince, who wasn't wide awake yet, "it does hurt my pride." Then she said to the prince, "I won't marry you unless you throw a servant on the fire and leave him there until it has burned out."

"There! Didn't I tell you!" cried the shivering, shaking man, stepping up to the prince. "I knew I had a use."

"So they built a fire," said the Story Teller Man, "and the old servant stepped right into it and even when the fire went out, there he stood shivering and shaking."

"Did the prince get the princess then?" asked Nick.

"He did," said Mi O' Mi. "But do you know she turned out exactly like her mother and the prince discharged all five of the servants who had helped him to get her."
